CONTRABANDS AND DESERTERS.

From Our Special Correspondent.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, Monday, Sept. 28, 1863.

What is to be done with the army? is the question asked by everyone now, from the highest to the lowest, but there is no one who seems able to give any satisfactory answer to the query. Every order issued is thoroughly canvassed, and each in turn arrives at a conclusion more perhaps in accordance with what he wishes to have come to pass than from any logical reasoning. An order to issue an extra number of rations, the detaching of a corps, the sending of old wagons to the rear, or anything else that is generally known, is a certain indication with some that the army is to advance immediately, while others, upon the same information, see in these things an early retrograde movement or a disposition to place the army in Winter quarters. All alike are wide of the mark—they are at sea without helm, chart or compass. Attachés of the Press, too, have their theories—the most sensible of which is, that the powers controlling this army are, Micawber-like, waiting for something to turn up; and when that something does transpire every one will know all about it, and, I predict, not before. One thing is quite certain, the officers of this army are sorely tried because they cannot see into the future.

THE SHOOTING OF LIEUT. WILLIAMS.

Lieut. Harry Williams, Acting Assistant Quartermaster of the Third corps, who was wounded near Rixleyville, on Saturday last, was brought into camp the same night by a troop of cavalry sent out to find him, and he is now at Lieut.-Col. Howard's quarters, where he will receive the attention of warm friends and the aid of the best medical skill. He was shot by a pistol ball, which entered the left thigh a short distance from the hip joint and passed out near the the knees, fracturing the bone, but to what extent is not at present known. The wound is not only a severe one, but very dangerous; still his attending Surgeon has hopes of his final recovery. Williams, when fired at, only saw two men; they ordered him to halt and surrender, and he, having no means of defence, turned his horse and attempted to escape, when they fired at him. He rode several hundred yards after he was wounded—the enemy not pursuing—until he fell to the ground, and succeeded in dragging himself into the bushes, where with twigs he improvised a tourniquet, and stopped the flow of blood. For two hours he remained in the bushes alone, and then a squadron of North Carolina cavalry came along and caused him to be carried to a house where our cavalry found him. Strange to say, his captors neither robbed him of his watch nor money. The cavalry sent out were directed to arrest all citizens suspected of aiding the enemy. One farmer, when arrested, not only applied a vile epithet to the Sergeant making the arrest, but refused to go, and seized an ax to defend himself. The Sergeant shot him dead on the spot.

RETURN OF DESERTERS.

Yesterday there arrived here from Alexandria, under guard, a detachment of one hundred and eighty deserters. Nearly every regiment that ever was connected with this army—many being since mustered out of the service—and some that never were, have representatives in this miserable detachment. Those belonging to regiments now here were sent to their respective commands, and the balance will be sent back to Alexandria for trial. A majority of these men, it is said, deserted a long time ago, and are now just beginning to realize that justice though slow is sure. They presented a curious spectacle while marching through the streets of Culpepper—clothed as they were in an indescribable variety of dress—a large number wearing citizens clothing. These unfortunate men will meet with summary trial and punishment.

THE BUSHWHACKERS AT WORK.

The bushwhackers are beginning to be quite active again along the line of the railroad, particularly between Manasses Junction and Alexandria. They have made several demonstrations of late along the line of road, but thus far have not succeeded in doing much damage. On Sunday they set a bridge on fire near Fairfax Station, but were driven off before they had time to complete their work. Only one train was delayed by the occurrence.

Fresh Supplies of Contrabands—The Provost Marshal.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, Thursday, Oct. 1, 1863.

The usual scarcity of news prevails in this camp, and serenades, reviews, and complimentary presentations, with drills and parades, occupy the attention of a majority of the force. The enemy's pickets have got tired of shooting at the Union pickets, and hence all is quiet at the extreme front. A fresh streak of contrabands has been recently struck, and every day more or less of this class of people come within our lines, and, for the first time, breathe the air of freedom. A few only of those who are now coming in remain with the army as servants, unless forced to do so; they are fearful of again being thrown under the protection of their kind masters. Washington is the Mecca which all seek, and they do not feel safe until they have reached that point.

Brig.-Gen. Patrick, who has displayed signal ability as Provost-Marshal-General of this army since its first organization, is to be relieved, at his own request, and will command a division in the Sixth corps. Gen. Patrick, by his unswerving integrity in the discharge of the duties pertaining to the Provost-Marshal's department, enjoys the high honor of being respected by all right-thinking men and the suavity of all others. Brig.-Gen. Terry, formerly commanding the Fifth Michigan Infantry, succeeds Gen. Patrick.

Several soldiers have recently been fired upon within our own lines. But yesterday a soldier was shot in the arm within half a mile of headquarters by one of a party of five bushwhackers. Arrangements have been made to put a stop to these little irregularities.

A Reconnoissance to Madison Court-house and Vicinity.

Army of the Potomac, Thursday, Sept. 24, 1863.

Two divisions of our cavalry started on a reconnoissance to Madison County and vicinity on the 21st inst., and returned last evening. Gen. Buford's and Gen. Kilpatrick's commands started at an early hour on the 21st—the latter in advance—and leaving Thoroughfare Mountain to the left, an advance was made on the road toward Madison Court-house, capturing several of the enemy's scouts, pickets and stragglers, as the command moved along. Arriving near the Court-house, the Fifth Michigan charged through the village, dispersing without much difficulty the force of the enemy quartered there. The division of Gen. Kilpatrick occupied the town that night, and Gen. Buford occupied a position near Robertson River—within supporting distance. One of the Michigan regiments doing picket duty on the road leading to Orange Court-house was charged upon during the night by a party of Stuart's cavalry, who were repulsed; what loss they sustained is unknown, but from the fact that traces of blood and stray carbines were found along the road the following morning, it is inferred that the enemy did not escape without some injury. Early on the morning of the 22d Gen. Buford advanced a part of his command on the Orange Court-house road, and proceeded with the remainder on the road leading to Gordonsville, and, at the same time, Gen. Kilpatrick taking a road to the left, crossed the Rapidan at Burtons' and Simms' Fords, without meeting with any opposition whatever. While moving down the river, hearing the guns of Gen. Buford's command, Gen. Kilpatrick marched toward Liberty Mills, where the commands were to meet in case both were successful. It appearing that the whole command of Gen. Stuart was engaging Gen. Buford, Gen. Kilpatrick ordered Davies' brigade with a section of Councilman's battery to recross the Rapidam and attack Stuart, who was already retreating on his flank, which movement was successfully executed. There being no good position for artillery, Gen. Davies was ordered to rejoin the division then advancing on the Liberty Mills road with a view to strike Stuart's rear before he could recross the Rapidan. The enemy was forced back to near Liberty Mills by Col. Sawyer's brigade, when meeting a force of infantry, the whole command retired across the Rapidan, the enemy not pursuing. On the 23d, the force having accomplished its mission, started to return—the enemy following at a respectful distance until the command was crossing Robertson's River, at Smith's and Haines' Fords. The enemy here made a vigorous charge upon the rear guard, which was repulsed. In this expedition, between fifty and sixty of the enemy were captured, also fifteen wagons, a number of horses, mules, beef cattle and negroes. The loss of men on our side was small.

The bushwhackers are still hovering about the Orange and Alexandria Railroad. To-day a party came within a few miles of Burke's Station, captured eight mules, and wounded a sergeant of one of the infantry regiments guarding the railroad.

THE SITUAUION SATISFACTORY.

Bragg Shows No Signs of Advancing.

Rebel Accounts of Burnside's Retreat to Jonesboro' False.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

The Republican, this afternoon, says:

"Official dispatches of the 1st inst., received to-day, represent the military situation before Chattanooga to be as satisfactory as the most hopeful could wish. Bragg makes no advance and does not dare do it. The statement in the rebel papers that Gen. Burnside has retreated from Jonesboro, East Tennessee, to Knoxville, is not true."

THE NAVAL SCHOOL AT NEWPORT.

Examination of Candidates for Admission—Discipline of the Academy—Facts Concerning the Practice-Ships—How Midshipmen are Taught.

From our Naval Reporter.

Newport, R. I., Friday, Oct. 2, 1863.

The regular Fall examination of candidates for admission to the Naval Academy commenced a few days since, and will close to-day. I will be able to send you, to-morrow or Saturday, a full list of the Midshipmen who may have passed—Commodore Blake having on my arrival given me permission to obtain all the information desired. The great and rapid increase of our navy has rendered the periodical admission of Midshipmen to the Naval School a very important event. When the number of candidates accepted at each examination was counted by fives and tens, little general interest was felt about the affair, but now hundreds apply for admission. The Spring and Fall ceremonies attract the curious and the affluent from all parts of the country. Newport would be comparatively deserted at this period of the season but for the excitement at the Academy. As it is, the hotels are studded with guests, anxious to witness the proceedings. No small share of the sojourners are composed of the relatives and friends of aspirants to naval honors. The anxious faces of parents and guardians can be easily discerned among the crowds that throng the halls and galleries. Celebrities, too, have their representatives. Bancroft, John Ward Home, Tuckerman, and others, mix frequently with the audience at the school. Many distinguished citizens of New-York also witness daily the evolutions of the Midshipmen.

Annapolis, as is known, was formerly the "locale" of the Academy until the treason of the South made its removal expedient. It is now situated at the commencement of Thames-street, in this city, in a spacious edifice, formerly the Atlantic House. Its proximity to the city, however, detracts from its value and another removal is contemplated. The authorities of the city have offered the Navy Department, as a free gift, Coartis Island, which contains 100 acres of land, or thereabouts. Commodore Blake is favorably disposed toward the acceptance of the grant, as, to use his own words, "It is remote enough for discipline and near enough for convenience." The examination is now confined to young men seeking admission to the school. The questions asked are not difficult to answer, if the boy possesses any sort of education. Nevertheless, in grammar, spelling and arithmetic the answers are sometimes very bad. In geography and history candidates are well informed; but the ignorance of many of the fundamental principles of knowledge is wonderful. I have not heard any one say that Mount Vesuvius was the Capital of the Mediterranean Sea, as a British candidate for exceptance said to an East India Company officer, but the following answers are equaled in erroneousness every day at Newport.

Officer—Spell effects.
Pupil—E-f-e-x.
Officer—No, that's very bad.
Pupil—Ef-fex.
Officer—No—e-f-f-e-c-t-s.

There is often an amusing reply, as follows:

Officer—Would it be good grammar to say, "man and woman is the noblest works of God?"

Pupil—No, Sir; it should be "man is the noblest work of God."

When the young candidate is passed, he is ordered to report for duty, where he is soon lost in the numbers of his own age, who are all dressed in a neat and becoming uniform, which is required to be kept in the most perfect order. A hammock and a locker is assigned to each one; he and everything belonging to him is numbered, and by his number he is known. No time is lost, and they at once commence their studies, few in number the first year; but in these they are drilled till they are thoroughly grounded in the rudiments of an English education. No advance is made till that which has been learned is understood, and can be applied correctly and without hesitation. The studies for the first term are arithmetic, English grammar and geography; and for the second term, geometry, English grammar, history and composition. The recitations are all at the blackboard. The question is given, and the answer is written out at length on the board—a method which tests the pupil's knowledge of the subject, and at the same time perfects him in composition, orthography and punctuation. There are three recitations daily, except on Saturday, on which day the practical exercises commence at 11½ o'clock, and a portion of the afternoon is given up to recreation. On the other days of the week, (Sunday, of course, excepted,) after the third recitation, which closes at 4 P. M., there is a drill (light infantry) and a dress parade.

THE SCHOOL FLEET.

For years one sailing corvette was deemed sufficient for the Academy. Now the following fleet is in its service:

Vessels.	Tons.	Guns.	Rate.
Constitution	1,773	50	Frigate.
Santee	1,773	50	Frigate.
Marion	556	22	Corvette.
Macedonian	—	22	Corvette.
The Yacht America	—	2	Cutter.

Although the advantages of a practice ship in any system of naval education are too obvious for comment, yet the Naval Academy was deprived of them for a series of years. Hon. John G. Mason, in 1847, recommended that a practice-ship should be connected with the Naval School, and also that the flags captured in our naval engagements should be transferred from Washington, where they had been deposited, to Annapolis, and placed under the charge of the officers of the Naval School. The latter recommendation was adopted, while the former was neglected. It was not until 1850 that the Preble sloop-of-war of the third-class was attached to the Naval School as a practice ship, and an opportunity afforded for practical instruction in seamanship in a cruise during the Summer months. The first cruise made by the Preble with this view, was in 1851, and was similar to the one now prescribed. The cruise of 1852 was a different and more interesting one. The Preble visited the Islands of Fayal, Maderia, Santa Cruz, the Canaries and Corunna on the coast of Spain. A large portion of the Spanish navy is stationed there, as is also a military force.

The Preble also visited Ferol, one of the royal dock-yards of Spain, where there was a school of navigation. At both Corunna and Ferol they were hospitably entertained by the chief officers of the Spanish navy. The cruise of 1854 of the same vessel embraced the ports of Plymouth, Cherbourg and Brest. Here a visit was made to the school-ship Laborda, where three hundred boys were daily exercised in seamanship. Another cruise was made by the midshipmen, in the Constitution, in 1860, under Commander T. T. Craven. His report to the Secretary states that the Midshipmen became so familiar with their duties that, in the short space of four weeks he "could call upon any one of the class to take observations for latitude or longitude by the sun, moon or stars, and to feel the most perfect confidence in the correctness of the work." On the previous cruise so accurate were these observations that when the last course bore upon Cape Henry Light, in the last chart, the light was discovered exactly ahead of the vessel. "In all my experience," says Commander Craven, "I have never made or known a more perfect land-fall."

The Macedonian arrived here a few days since after her European cruise. Her "Middies" are on leave, but will report on the 10th of October. Capt. Fairfax, of San Jacinto fame, reached this city yesterday, having been ordered to command that corvette. The Santee and Constitution are at anchor in the harbor. The Marion is undergoing repairs, and will come here when they are effected. The exercises on board their vessels are as follows: The pupils are divided into two watches, and three guns' crews. During the day, at sea, a whole watch; at night and also when in port, a quarter watch is required to be constantly on deck. The guns' crews are successively stationed in the Master's and powder divisions, when assembled at quarters for general exercise, to familiarize each crew with the duties appertaining to the divisions. At 9 o'clock A. M., (Sundays excepted,) when at sea, and when the weather permits, the members of the second class are placed alternately in charge of the deck, and required to reef, make and reduce sail, and perform evolutions for one hour and a half—the ship being worked by the students, assisted by the crew. From 10:30 A. M. to 3:30 P. M., the watch below attend school for the purpose of studying navigation; and the watch on deck are employed in knotting, splicing, strapping blocks, fitting shrouds, collars of stays, &c. At 4 o'clock P. M. they are either exercised at target firing, division or general quarters, or with the boat howitzers, and receive instruction in practical gunnery. In addition to these regular duties, the watch on deck assist to work the ship, and one of the most efficient members of the second class generally performs the evolutions required to sail the ship.

The proficiency in navigation attained by these pupils is sufficient to warrant a majority of the acting midshipmen competent to navigate a ship. The target practice and frequent divisional and general exercise at quarters have familiarized them with the arrangements and duties of the different divisions—the management of guns in a sea-way, the manner of mounting, dismounting and transporting them from post to post, and the use of all the implements required for their service. The only target practice they have had with the great guns has been at sea, at distances varying from one to three hundred yards, where they have upon all occasions exhibited a degree of skill and judgment in pointing and firing that not more than one shot out of eight fired would have missed a ship.

Appointments to the Naval Academy are made by members of Congress, every member having one appointment yearly at his disposal. The youth who is so fortunate as to receive an appointment, reports himself at the Academy at the proper time (the opening of a new term,) and is at once subjected to two examinations. The first by the medical board is a rigid one, and if he have not a good constitution, and a well formed and well developed body, or if there be any indications of weakness, or apparent tendency to disease, he cannot pass. The result is, all who do pass are sound, healthy, robust boys, whose frames soon become more fully developed by the gymnasium and practical exercises, which at all seasons of the year are a part of the discipline of the Academy. From the medical board, if accepted, he passes to the academic board, where the examination is light for a boy who has had any training at all before presenting himself for admission.

After the June examination the cadets of the fourth class enjoy the privilege and the excitement of the "practice cruise," from June 15 to Sept. 30. At sea they learn practically much they will have to study the following term, and the two methods combined are most advantageous to the cadet.

The last cruises of the Marion and Macedonian—the first abroad, and the latter on our own coast—have been very beneficial, both in mind and body, to the student.

FROM NASSAU, N. P.

We have received files of the Nassau Guardian to the 23d ult. Of news these journals are entirely barren. The shipping intelligence column shows a great falling off of the contraband traffic with the Southern States. Few steamers are reported, and the fact is corroborative of the recent rumor that the vigilance of our cruisers in the Bahama latitude had driven the blockade runners to transfer themselves to St. George's and Hamilton, Bermuda, where, at present, there seems to be less risk of capture. The Guardian, of the 23d, states that news had reached Nassau by the West Indian steamer Venezuelan, of the sinking of the United States gunboat Vanderbilt, by the rebel pirate Georgia, after an engagement of fifteen minutes. The date of this alleged occurrence is not given, and we are inclined to believe that it is nothing more than the revival of an old rumor.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Fortress Monroe, Thursday, Oct. 1.

Major-Gen. Barnes arrived this morning, and proceeded to Norfolk at 9 A. M., where he takes command as Military Governor.

Steamer New-York left to-day for City Point in charge of Major Mulford.

The steamer S. R. Spaulding sailed for Boston at 2 P. M.

The Storm at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Friday, Oct. 2.

The rain was very heavy this afternoon. The streets were flooded in some places to so great an extent as to wash passenger cars off the tracks. The bridges on the Washington Railroad at Laurel and Hanover, have been washed away, and trains were detained. The evening train is not in yet (11 P. M.)

Rumored Recognition by Great Britain of the Mexican Usurpers.

ASPECT OF POLISH AFFAIRS.

Cape Race, Thursday, Oct. 2.

The steamship Saxonia, from Southampton the 23d of September, arrived off this point at noon to-day. She was boarded by the news yacht of the Associated Press, and the following summary of her news obtained:

The steamships City of Baltimore and Jura had arrived out.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The London Times says the fall of Charleston is virtually decided. Its fall is only a question of time.

The Times says that Mr. Mason sent to Earl Russell, on Monday, a notification that he has been instructed by the Richmond Government to withdraw from England. Mr. Mason proceeds to Paris.

FRANCE.

La France says a Federal steam corvette (Kearsage) had arrived at Brest from Madeira, having been sent, with another Federal corvette, in pursuit of the Florida. The Florida leaves Brest on the 23d, completely repaired, and proceeds immediately to meet the second Federal corvette, which is at Lisbon, and attack her before she can be joined by the one at Brest, which is repairing.

La France says the Federal corvette Kearsage will be treated at Brest like the Florida. Both belligerents will enjoy the same rights and advantages.

La France says if the three Powers make a common communication to Russia, it will be of a different character to the ordinary note, and in diplomatic language receive another name.

The Paris Journal considers the insertion in the Moniteur of the Polish memorandum tantamount to a moral recognition as belligerents.

The Confederate loan was quoted at 30@29 discount.

French Rentes, 67f. 80c.; Consols, 93⅞@93⅜ for Money.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

The Memorial Diplomatique says that England has entered into an engagement to acknowledge the present Mexican Government as soon as Maximilian announces to the deputation his final acceptance. England and France will immediately accredit official representatives. England has promised to favor every means for the realization of a loan necessary to place Mexico in a position to fill her engagements abroad.

On Oct. 8, Napoleon will receive the Mexican deputation on its return from Trieste.

DENMARK AND GERMANY.

At Frankfort the Federal Diet appointed a Committee upon the Holstein question, who reported in favor of the Federal execution being carried out. The Committee recommend the taking possession by the Administration of the entire Duchy, and the entry of six thousand Hanoverian and Saxon troops. The votes of the Diet on the report will be taken Oct. 1.

A Copenhagen dispatch says, as the first step toward placing the army on a war footing, the War Minister has ordered the regimental lists to be filled up to the war strength by Oct. 1.

RUSSIA.

The Russian Emperor in a speech had promised reforms and extended privileges.

Eleven iron-plated gun-boats, with turrets, will be completed in Spring.

Twenty thousand men, it is reported, are stationed in Finland.

The Czar received the King of the Greeks at St. Petersburgh on the 20th.

No more leave is given to naval officers.

POLAND.

The Russians were defeated on the 30th at Lutomierz; at Magovien on the 12th. The Russians massacred a great many inhabitants of Lutomierz.

The Russians had plundered several houses in Warsaw.

THE RESULT.

From the Richmond Examiner.

A battle on the Rapidan is not the necessary sequel of conflict on the Chickamauga. Meade is one of those leaders who risks nothing. He has gained a reputation above his merit by the affair at Gettysburgh; and will not lose it if caution can preserve his laurel. The belief that his army has been rapidly depleted to reinforce Rosecrans appears to be supported by all intelligence of an authentic character. No doubt can be entertained that every available man will be rapidly concentrated at Chattanooga, and that the second act of the sanguinary drama of Tennessee and Georgia is yet to be seen.

The battle of the Chickamauga is finished. It was an unquestionable victory for the Confederates. Yet there is little rejoicing over it. What are the results, the people ask, except a considerable number of dead men? There are others. First of all, the greatest design of the war has been defeated; the Confedracy is not cleft in twain; Georgia and Alabama are saved, for the time at least. The second and chief gain is purely moral, but it is immense. It has satisfied Europe that the Confederacy did not die at Gettysburgh, and was not buried in the Mississippi; it has proven to the North that the Southern cause has not collapsed; that no disabling wound has been inflicted on our organization, and that our armies are still fighting machines of tremendous power.

So far, so good. But it cannot be denied that the results are not all we had reason to anticipate from the success in the field. The enemy hold Chattanooga and East Tennessee, which were the prizes of the battle. It is true that he cannot remain long in Chattanooga. The possession of Lookout Mountain is the essential possession of Chattanooga, and Gen. Bragg doubtless expects to conclude the campaign by receiving a capitulation which will surpass that of Ulm. But another battle must be fought and another victory gained before that conclusion can be reached. If Rosecrans can only maintain himself in the town till his reinforcements reach him, he will endeavor to redeem his fortunes by an effort of the first magnitude. But then he must be the attacking party, and the choice of position will rest with his adversary.

MEETING AT COOPER INSTITUTE

Honors to the Missouri Delegation.

Speeches of William C. Bryant, of New-York; Hon. C. P. Johnson and Col. Moss, of Missouri, and Others.

A mass meeting was held at Cooper Institute last evening, under the auspices of the National Club, a German political organization, to welcome Hon. B. Gratz Brown, Hon. C. P. Johnson, Hon. Emil Pretorius and others, of Missouri, composing the delegation which has recently visited the President, to solicit from him relief in regard to grievances alleged to be endured at the hands of Gov. Gamble, Gen. Schofield and others.

The meeting was called to order by Frederick Kapp, Esq., President of the National Club, who presided during the evening, forty Vice-Presidents and fifteen Secretaries completing the organization. The hall was well filled, many ladies being among the audience. The stage, draped with the American flag, was further decorated with the following mottoes:

"Away with the last traitor and the last slave."
"Welcome to the Missouri and Kansas Delegation."
"Union and Freedom."

A band of music was present, which divided with the speakers the attention of the audience.

Hon. Jim Lane, of Kansas, was announced in the call as one of the speakers, but was not present, being detained in Washington. The remarks of the speakers elicited much enthusiasm, and the Western speakers in manly portions of their remarks fairly "brought down the house."

The first speaker announced was William Cullen Bryant, Esq., of the Evening Post, who spoke substantially as follows:

SPEECH OF WM. C. BRYANT.

Mr. Bryant gave a warm welcome to the Delegates from Missouri and Kansas, denounced the gradual Emancipationists, and closed his remarks as follows: Yet there are men who talk of gradual emancipation. There are men in the Slave States who make of slavery a sort of idol, who, if it must be removed, prefer to see it removed by slow degrees and with tender leave-takings and close embraces. A foul and monstrous idol it is. It is a Juggernaut under which thousands of lives are crushed out. It is a Moloch to whose bosom the children of the land pass through fire. My friends, let us hurl this grim idol at once from its pedestal. [Applause.] Trample it in the dust. [Cheers.] Grind it to powder, as the prophets of old the graven images of the heathen idolaters. Scatter it to the four winds of Heaven and strew it upon the waters, that no human hand shall ever again gather up the accursed atoms, and mold an image to be worshiped with the sacrifices of human life. [Applause.]

SPEECH OF HON. CHAS. P. JOHNSON, OF MISSOURI.

The next speaker introduced was Hon. Chas. P. Johnson, of Missouri, one of the delegation and Chairman of the Emancipation Committee in the last Missouri Legislature. He commenced by remarking that the object of the delegation in proceeding to Washington, as was well known, was to obtain from President Lincoln relief from the secession rule in Missouri of Gen. Schofield and Gov. Gamble, who were appointing slaveholders and Secessionists, instead of loyal men, as officers in the enrolled soldiery of the State, and really making the chief occupation of the Missouri troops the guarding of the property of slaveholders, and the prosecution of loyal men who favor emancipation. He said they were called radicals as though it was a term of reproach. The first chapter of their radicalism was that they believed that we were engaged in a life and death struggle, and that the means and efforts of every loyal man in the country should be given earnestly, enthusiastically and exhaustively to the final and utter crushing out of this unholy rebellion. [Applause.] The second chapter in their radicalism was that they believed that as Slavery was the cause of the war there should be no compromise, no conciliatory measures, no cessation of hostilities until the cause of the war was dead beyond hope of reconstruction in every part of the Slaveholding States. [Great cheering.] They had waited on the President of the United States, not demanding anything that he could not grant constitutionally, even to suit any Copperhead of the North; not asking of him anything but what he could grant and suit the loyal people of the United States. Their demand was simply this, that the President should cast his influence in favor of freedom as the friends of the Union in Missouri want it, and in opposition to Pro-Slaveryism, which is but a modified form of secession. [A Voice—"That's so."] The speaker then entered at some length into a detailed account of the difficulties in Missouri and Kansas, describing the persecutions the Union men had been compelled to suffer and the obstacles they had had to encounter, and relating their efforts and partial success in the contest against Slavery in that State. The great obstacle now, after all that they had achieved as the result of their hard-fought contest, was the fact that the influence of the National Government is thrown in favor of the slaveholder, guerrillas and bushwhackers and against the loyal people. The Government adopts its policy in accordance with the wishes of Gov. Gamble. The General of the Department associates with the Secessionists of the State, and acts in opposition to the loyal people of Missouri, who have sworn in their hearts that the institution of Slavery there shall go down. [Great applause.] The men that were captured as prisoners at Fort Jackson are to-day occupying Federal appointments from the Government of this country. [Cries of "Shame, shame."] The Adjutant-General of that State under Gamble, was a prisoner taken at Camp Jackson. The Provost-Marshals appointed to sustain the policy of Gamble, are appointed in accordance with the recommendations of men who are Pro-Slavery at heart, which, in the State of Missouri, is equal to being in favor of secession at heart. [A Voice—"It is everywhere." "That's so." Applause.] What was the use of talking to them as the Postmaster-General did in his late remarkable speech about hybridism and negro equality. How foolish it was to talk about the question of what should be done with the negro. The speaker thought we were doing first rate with them. The President had recommended gradual emancipation. Suppose he did. He recommended emancipation with compensation. But the speaker thanked God in his secret heart that Congress adjourned without making any provision for emancipation. But the world is advancing, notwithstanding the President of the United States. (Laughter and applause.) The end of this war must bring with it the end of Slavery, and the loyal men of Missouri were fighting for that result. The grapple with Slavery by the North in this struggle should be so earnest as not to leave a single vestige of the institution in the country. [Cheers.] He did not know what action would be extended toward this delegation by the President. They had not received his reply. This audience could easily imagine, and he did not desire to go into the details what the difficulties were in the State of Missouri with such a condition of affairs as he had represented. The Conservative-Copperhead men or the Copperhead-Conservative men can live in peace and quietness in many of the most dangerous places in the State, while the radicals, if their enemies get hold of one of them in a Conservative Copperhead neighborhood, they not only kill him, but there is an exhibition of that chivalry of which the South has so much boasted. Our radical friends do not go down to their graves in the usual manner of men dying in this war, but they die by the slow process of being taken down from the limb where they are hung two or three times, and—cold in the embrace of death—their ears are cut off, their noses cut off and powder placed in their ears and blown up. They are thrown upon the public streets for their fellow-citizens and fellow-soldiers to gaze upon as they walk along the streets. This is the influence of Slavery—Slavery in its highest degree of chivalry. Our men do not die as those do who fight before the cannon's mouth surrounded by the enthusiasm of their comrades, with the knowledge of the fact that if they are captured they are to be treated as prisoners of war; or if they die, they are to be honored as brave men who have fallen in a good cause. There are hundreds of cases in which dead bodies have been treated in almost as atrocious a manner as that which he had named. The "Conservative" policy on the part of the commander of the department culminated in the lurid flames which lighted the heavens from the noble City of Lawrence. But if the incidents that had happened all over that section were collected into a volume they would develop a history surpassing many times in barbarity the massacre of Lawrence. The loyal people attribute it all to Slavery. If any portion of the people of the North question their earnestness, or say that they are going too fast in this rebellion or revolution, they must be excused on the plea that having learned all about this subject in the better school of experience upon the soil of Missouri,—having learned it practically there,—they have come to the conclusion, regardless of the fine-spun theories of statesmen and of philosophers, that the cause of all this is Slavery. This radical policy, supported by all the loyal men of the loyal States, and supported by a majority of the loyal people of all the States, is the only live policy in the United States. [Cheers.] That party is the only live party that can beat Copperheadism, and it will do it. [Applause.] Will the people of the North, after this bloody conflict, allow the cowardly devices of Northern Secessionists at heart to prevail, and again compromise with "our erring Southern brethren?" ["No, no."] Many of our public men to-day are fearful of our progress. They are trying to restrain us, and are leaning toward a conservatism which must unite them with the Copperheads. There are men to-day who call themselves War Democrats. The speaker would advise them to change their name, for their children might misunderstand the true significance of the term—because the Democratic party of to-day is pursuing a policy which is directly calculated to aid and abet the enemy. If we do not want to bow our heads to the aristocrats of the South, we must whip the Copperheads at the ballot-box. And suppose we do not whip them at the ballot-box? Suppose, for instance, that Mr. Vallandigham should be elected President of the United States, [derisive laughter,] did they suppose the speaker would be a constitutional Union man then? Did they suppose he would respect the edicts of such a man. No, such a President would stand in the same relation to him that Jefferson Davis did now. [Applause.] And this is the position that the American people must occupy. This thing must be fought through now. But if the Constitution of the United States recognized Slavery—though he did not believe it did—he wanted it amended, so that the provision should be stamped plainly and surely in it before this fight is over, that the American territory shall not hereafter contain a slave. [Tremendous applause.] That can be done constitutionally. [Applause.] A great trust is imposed upon the shoulders of the American people. If he knew the Anglo-Saxon race, he thought he might hope to see the day that the heroes of this country, and of all other countries, could look from those regions above, and see the American people great in the beginning of their history, proving themselves to be no degenerate progeny of noble sires. [Applause.]

The following resolutions were then read amid applause and unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, The cause of Missouri is identical with the cause of the Union at large, since the complete and speedy abolition of Slavery is the condition as well of the welfare and prosperity of the State of Missouri as of the undisturbed and glorious continuance of our Union; and

Whereas, The only party which represents the true interest of the State of Missouri, and of the Union, is the radical Emancipation party, whose representatives we see to-night in our midst, and whose principles were substantially laid down for the first time in the Proclamation of John C. Fremont, dated Aug. 30, 1861; and

Whereas, The policy pursued by President Lincoln in Missouri, by closing his ears to the just, loyal and patriotic demands and grievances of the radical party, while he indorses and sustains the disloyal and oppressive course of Gov. Gamble, Gen. Schofield and their adherents, is an incomprehensible policy, since it is in striking contradiction to the spirit of Mr. Lincoln's own proclamations and to distinct acts of Congress, concerning the property of rebellious slaveholders; and,

Whereas, This inscrutable policy has already borne its pernicious fruits in the terrible massacre at Lawrence, Kansas, and bids fair to lead to further results of the same lamentable character; and

Whereas, The loyal citizens of the City of New-York here assembled are thoroughly and deeply convinced of the necessity of the speedy and complete abolition of Slavery throughout the whole dominion of the United States, as the only measure promising the successful and enduring regeneration of the Union for all future time, and as they are equally convinced of the ruinous effect of a policy which is trying to reconcile an enemy stubbornly opposed to all reconciliation.

Resolved, That we tender our heartiest welcome to the delegates of the loyal party of Missouri, now present in our midst, as the representatives of the only true interests of Missouri as well as of the country at large.

Resolved, That we hereby denounce and condemn the course pursued by Gov. Gamble, Gen. Schofield and their political associates as a disloyal, law-defying policy—a policy calculated to defeat the object of the present war, and endanger its speedy termination.

Resolved, That we deeply and earnestly deplore the indorsement by President Lincoln of a policy so utterly opposed to the spirit of his own proclamations and of distinct acts of Congress, and his refusal to assent to the just demands of the loyal Radical party of Missouri. Finally,

Resolved, That we greet the members of the loyal Radical party of Missouri and Kansas as our brethren and fellow-soldiers in the great struggle for the regeneration of our glorious Union, and that we pledge to them our most vigorous coöperation, by word and deed, until from the liberated soil of our common country the last traitor shall have disappeared with the last slave.

Loud calls being given for Jim Lane, the chairman announced that that gentleman was still in Washington, on behalf of the delegation, and had not been able to be present to-night. A number of the audience left at this announcement.

Mr. F. Shutz followed in a speech in the German language, referring more generally to political subjects, and receiving much applause.

Col. Arnold Krekel, the present candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of Missouri, was the next speaker. To indicate to the audience, he said, the policy of the present Pro-Slavery party in Missouri, he would state that the recent Convention had stricken out from the State Constitution the clause providing for emancipation by the Legislature, by compensating the slaveholders, and leaving as the only provision on that subject the one allowing emancipation when it is in accordance with the wishes of the slaveholders. There could be no peace or quiet in Missouri until Slavery was utterly crushed out in the State. Abraham Lincoln received 17,000 votes in Missouri, and all these men are, without exception, Radicals. And yet he says that the Radicals in Missouri are too fast in their desire to overturn Slavery in that State, when they are only attempting to do in a slower way what he by the one single act of his proclamation has done suddenly through all the States in rebellion. The loyal men of Missouri are compelled to leave their families at home to the mercy of guerrillas and travel hundreds of miles, at great trouble and expense, to ask the Government at Washington to do them justice. It was a spectacle never before seen in this or any other country. Gov. Gamble has enrolled all the citizens of the State, and appointed men who are Pro-Slavery at heart over them—men known as aiders of the Secessionists. And so under these officers the loyal men of Missouri will be compelled to guard the property of Secessionists. But Slavery must fall in Missouri, or the loyal men must leave the State. And they would not leave their homes, and be driven from the State by bushwhackers and guerrillas until they had met them face to face in bloody conflict. [Great applause.]

Hon. Emil Pretorius followed briefly.

COL. MOSS, OF MISSOURI.

Col. Moss, of Missouri, was next introduced. He is a terse, vigorous speaker, and his remarks were frequently loudly applauded. He said that in the platform of the radical party of the West was the plank that there should be no more Slavery, and that no candidate who did not stand on it would receive their votes—that was the position of the Radical party of Missouri and of loyal men in Arkansas and Texas. They had learned within the past three years its necessity. The loyal people are bound to have freedom and nothing short of it. A compromise would only leave the matter to be fought over again. Slavery is doomed and will die the death of a felon. It was with these feelings and views that the Radical party presented themselves to the President; it was not known that he would deny their request; he might grant it; he would be compelled to pretty soon. The President thought they in Missouri were going too fast; that man who has made no progress on the question of Slavery in the past three years stands to-day on the platform of the rebels. The loyal people of the West have decreed that it must die in the next twelve months, and already slaveholders begin to feel and fear it.

The speaker denounced the Copperheads as more despicable than the rebels, and as to the Peace men and their propositions, already about 700,000 Commissioners, brave men, with guns and sabres were appointed who would settle the question of the rebellion without the aid of such politicians; but there was no settlement except in the subjugation and extermination of the rebels. Another question with the radicals was, shall a rebel hereafter be allowed a vote or a seat in legislative halls? They said no, and they cared not what Presidents or politicians might say; the rebels could not live among them, and they would not admit Jeff. Davis and his partners—at least until after twenty-one years of training. They of Missouri did not want men who, a few years since, talked loudly of irrepressible conflicts to talk about compromise now; they did not intend to have such men in office in future; they wanted men who, when they lay down a principle, are willing to take its logical consequences; it is folly to conduct war on moderate and conservative principles. The loyal people of the Slave States the speaker knew to be radical, except, perhaps, those of Kentucky. These loyal men are watching the movements of Missouri, anxious to fall into line. Don't fear for Missouri, for in November she will show she is loyal by a majority of 30,000.

At the conclusion of Col. Moss' remarks, the meeting adjourned.

THE WAR IN THE FAR WEST.

Col. Weer's Operations—Emancipation Meetings—Gen. Blunt's Campaign—Affairs at Fort Smith and in the Vicinity—The Government of Arizona.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

Leavenworth, Kansas, Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Col. Weer, of the Tenth Kansas, is now in command of the troops along the border engaged in extirpating bushwhackers. He has gone to work something in the right style, and being a rough and ready fighter, is confidently expected to do some work. Discarding all trains and wagons, taking subsistence on pack mules, his forces will live in the brush, and meet the murderers on their own ground. That such a course of procedure is necessary one fact will show. The main haunt of the guerrilla in Western Missouri is in the Sinabar region, Jackson County. This valley, if it can be so called, is thirty miles long and seven broad, and is one inextricable mass of hills, bluffs, ravines, heavy timber and dense undergrowth, intersected with a few main roads, and a maze of wood and cow-paths, with here and there a clearing and improvement. The undergrowth is so dense that the thickets and vines have to be cleared away for camping purposes when troops enter the bush. This is Quantrell's main rendezvous. Here he is reported to have a stronghold built, deep in the interior of the "tangled wild wood." Col. Weer proposes to clean out the whole region—to make it clean. In conjunction with the force engaged in this operation, of which Weer will be in command, troops are said to be so posted as to prevent an escape south on the part of the leaders. A great many guerrillas have crossed to the north of the Missouri, and report puts the various bands in Clay, Platte, Clinton and Ray at not less than 400 or 500.

A series of immediate emancipation meetings have lately been held in Platte County, at Weston and St. Joseph. Another will be held at Platte City, the former residence of Dave Atchison. The call for this meeting is signed by men, the majority of whom were formerly known as the bitterest Slaveryites in the County. Among them are men who were open rebels when Price took the field. That their conversion is sincere is doubted by some.

Gen. Blunt has arrived at Fort Scott, having left Fort Blunt on the 16th. His health is very much impaired, and he has gone through the fatigues of his late brilliant campaign, in such bodily weakness as would have induced most men to take their beds, in place of leading armies. The full merits of his late campaign will probably never be appreciated. It was not only an exhibition of splendid pluck and fighting qualities, but in the details of soldierly management was admirably and skillfully planned.

The Union refugees are coming in to Fort Smith in large numbers. That the country in the vicinity has been cleared of rebel foes is assured by the fact that men from Northern Texas continually reach our lines. The Texas Red River counties are to a great extent settled by Northern men. Those who have so far escaped the rebel conscription are seeking our lines or waiting our advent. The feeling aroused by Gen. Blunt's success is jubilant among Unionists from that region. A company of Texans and one of Arkansians have been raised and attached to Col. Moonlight's new regiment, the Fourteenth Kansas. In addition, the Second Kansas has recruited largely its depleted ranks from this source. The Second Arkansas infantry has filled up its ranks to maximum. In addition to these, Gen. Blnut has ordered the raising of two new cavalry regiments, one to be known as the Second Arkansas cavalry; the other as the First North Texas Union cavalry. Several companies for each are well under way. Negro recruiting is also brisk.

The Army of the Frontier has lost somewhat of its small strength by the return of Col. Catherwood with a portion of the Sixth and Eighth E. M. M. to Cassville. But as he will be in the range of Coffee's guerrilla operations, it will rather strengthen than weaken Blunt's line of communication. The Second Arkansas infantry have also returned north from Fort Smith, and will occupy Fayetteville. These forces composed part of Col. Cloud's brigade, which forms the Second of the Frontier Army. Acting under orders, Col. Cloud, who was then in Gen. McNeil's district of Southwest Missouri, moved to the State line of Arkansas, with the view of assisting Blunt if necessary. Having in pursuit of guerrillas crossed into the district of the frontier, Gen. Blunt ordered him to Fort Gibson by forced marches. Since the occupation of Fort Smith Brig.-Gen. McNeil ordered him back to his district. Fearing Col. Cloud might not consider the order binding, Gen. McNeil sent separate orders to regimental commanders. The Missouri forces being for defence of that State obeyed. Col. Cloud, however, takes ground that he is now under Major-Gen. Blunt, and declines to obey McNeil's order. He is in command at Fort Smith and the counties south. The troops under him consist of two battalions of the Second Kansas cavalry, two companies of the Fourteenth Kansas cavalry, the First colored infantry, six companies of the Second Colorado, stationed at Van Buren, and Rabb's Eighth Indiana battery. The vigorous recruiting now going on will soon strengthen our forces there. The Third brigade, under the gallant Col. Bowen, Thirteenth Kansas, is stationed at Briar Town, twenty miles west of Fort Smith. He has the Thirteenth Kansas infantry, Third Wisconsin cavalry, (both full,) and the Third Kansas battery. At Camp Fort Davis, six miles from Fort Blunt, and at that post and Tah-lah-quah, the Indians or First brigade, with two battalions of the Sixth Kansas cavalry, and the Second Kansas battery, are stationed. Col. Judson with a battalion of the Sixth Kansas, came in with Gen. Blunt to Fort Scott. Maj. C. W. Blair, Second Kansas, Post-Commandant, having been commissioned Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fourteenth, will take the field soon. Col. Judson will take his place at Fort Scott.

The whereabouts of the disorganized rebel Indians is now definitely settled. Stand Waitie, Cherokee, with Drew, is nominally in command of two Choctaw regiments. At one time he is on the Candian, then at the North Fork, but his usual rendezvous is in the Washita or San Bois Hills, where it would seem he proposes to turn guerrilla. The principal portion of his Cherokee followers have abandoned him. All of these and the Creeks would come in, but for the bitter hostility manifested by the Union Indians. They don't want them, and it requires all the influences of the whites to prevent killing them when they do come. This fear keeps the Creeks from coming in as fast as they would. The major portion of the two McIntosh (rebel) regiments are in their own country, waiting like Micawber for "something to turn up." If the loyal Indians are let alone, they would soon be something turned up—their toes to the sky, at least. The animosity exhibited to each other is deadly in the extreme. This fact will render necessary the establishment of some form of government to hold them in subjection, unless it is the policy of the Government to abandon the Territory to the contending parties, for the purpose of bringing about a huge Kilkenny cat-fight, in which both parties will tear each other to pieces. This may, in the Gradgrindian sense, be a good thing, as it will be a summary disposal of the Indians, and thereby open this inviting country to the enterprise and activities of the white man.

The entire Territorial Government of Arizona is staying in this city. They started within a few days for their distant official duties. Hon. Wm. M. F. Arny, Secretary of New-Mexico, and Ex-Gov. Bashford, of Wisconsin, will accompany Gov. Goodwin and party. They take with them a valuable train and will be escorted by four companies of the Eleventh Missouri cavalry. This Territory, in the event of complications growing out of the French occupation of Mexico, will be of very great positional importance. The neighboring States of Sonora, Chihuahua and Lower California are all Liberal and Anti-Church. It is stated that overtures have already been made through Gov. Arny and the Governor of Chihuahua, now in Washington, for the military occupancy of those States by our troops. The safety of our vast territory on the Pacific and in the Cordilleras would seem to demand some wider interests in affairs in that section than appears at present to be felt. California, New-Mexico, Arizona, Nevada—in fact, the whole mineral region is threatened by the aspect of affairs in Mexico. As to Texas, the Administration has taken the alarm. Banks, Franklin and Steele are moving in that direction. Gen. Blunt will be in Texas within six weeks if allowed to move. Brig.-Gen. West, of Gen. Carleton's command, holds Northwest Texas, with headquarters at Franklin. His lines extend south to Fort Davis, on the Rio Grande. The indications are strong that Carleton's forces in New-Mexico and Arizona will be increased, in anticipation of the necessities which may arise in that distant region. A large quantity of arms, ordnance stores, six hundred horses, &c., lately left Fort Leavenworth for New-Mexico.

Disappointed West Indians.

St. Thomas, W. I., Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1863.

To the Editor of the Times:

The treacle and lollypops which our neighbors are enjoying at Nassau, N. P., are tit-bits which we look upon from this Island very grudgingly. Why should we also not have some of the sweets and good things which rebellion is so abundantly showering upon the Bahamas? Is our geographical position less advantageous for running the blockade or are our merchants plus difficiles.

When the news of the bombardment of Sumter reached us in March, 1861, signifying war, some of us calculated firmly on finding new markets for old stocks, but our expectations have proved false, and our anticipated El Dorado has vanished—shall I tell you the reason? It is because scarcely a day passes that we do not see the Stars and Stripes floating gracefully, but not the less threateningly, in our harbor. This is provoking; but we console ourselves for this constant interruption to trade by prophecies, predictions, bodings, forebodings and croakings, to the prejudice of the "intermeddling Yankees," and when our prophecies prove false, and a New-Orleans falls, or a Vicksburgh is reduced, we vent our indignation and wrath in true Billingsgate abuse.

Please ask Cousin Gideon to have his ships sent elsewhere, in order that a score or two individuals in this place may enjoy some of the plums of which Nassau seems to have the monopoly at present. As to the profanum vulgus, who cares whether its Anti-Slavery principles are respected as long as a majority of our storekeepers are enriched by a profitable trade.

AFFAIRS IN TENNESSEE.

More Quiet Times at Memphis—Miscellaneous Intelligence—The Cyprians—The Cotton Question.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 24, 1863.

The loyal denizens of this city, who until lately were constantly exercised with alarms and rumors of imminent threatened danger from every imaginable point, seem now to be assured that the Union arms are dominant, and that they are in the midst of peace and security. But two or three months ago the public ear was almost daily assailed with rumors of armies threatening our very thresholds. First, Price was just below the city, with thirty thousand men; then Marmaduke was just above with fifteen thousand; then Gens. Chalmers and George were five miles from the city, with six thousand men, and our pickets driven in.

The principal effect of these rumors was to load the upper river boats with crowds of the timid and credulous, who had no desire to be placed under the dominion of King Jeff. The most nervous under these excitements, and the earliest to "vamose" were the old Memphians, who had taken the oath and conformed to the new order of things, who seemed particularly unwilling to meet their old friends.

Now, thanks to our indefatigable military protectors, all foundation for these alarms has been removed. Price, Marmaduke, & Co., are too much engaged with Gen. Steele to turn their thoughts toward Memphis, and Col. McCrellis, with the Third and Ninth, and Col. Wallace with the Fourth Illinois cavalry, have driven Chalmers and all the other rebel commands that infested our neighborhood, across the Tallahatchie, and away down into Dixie. Chalmers has lately received so many severe castigations, that he evinces no desire to make any more tours of observation near our lines. One of the most energetic and effective officers in dispersing these bands, is Capt. Perkins, in command of the Ninth Illinois cavalry.

This is undoubtedly one of the finest and most effective cavalry regiments in the service. It is composed of healthy, stalwart men, all well mounted, who went through the Arkansas campaign of 1862, with Gen. Curtis. Seven companies are armed with Colt's revolving, and four with Sharp's rifles. The twelfth company is composed of a battery of four light mountain howitzers that move with the celerity of cavalry, and have proved most effective in the numerous raids the regiment has made into Mississippi. This arm of the regiment Capt. Perkins has made his speciality, and he handles the pieces with a precision and effect that strikes dismay and confusion into the rebel ranks. After a few discharges their officers find it impossible to form their men, who scatter and bushwhack on their own hook, or leave for safer ground.

Brig.-Gen. Richardson, C. S. A., with a band of about two hundred ragamuffins, is still hovering about West Tennessee, between the Hatchie and the line of the Charleston Railroad. Their principal object seems to be to force something to eat out of the impoverished people, and keep out of the way of the blue coats, which latter they display singular adroitness in accomplishing.

Gen. Dave Stewart passed through here a couple of days since, on the way to join his brigade at Vicksburgh. He is the hero of the celebrated Burch trial in Chicago some years since.

The present condition of this city is a subject well worthy the consideration of the philanthropist and philosopher. All the pestilences, vices and corruptions of the continent seem to have congregated in this unfortunate place. The air is filled with the stench of putrid carcases of horses and mules, that lay unburied in and around the city, dealing disease, and it may be death, to the unfortunate inhabitants. Even the hospitals, with a singular disregard for the health of their inmates and the public, eject their filthy offal at their very doors. We breathe an atmosphere so offensive that persons of delicate organizations cannot walk the streets where hospitals abound.

Would it not be well for our military ruler, who who displays so much energy in hunting hidden abuses, to direct a part of his attention to this reeking and heaven-offending nuisance?

Our Commanding-General some time since issued a fierce pronunciamiento against the Cyprians, who formed a very prominent feature in our population. This on its face read well; but its effect was merely to afford a source of revenue to some favored officials, who by a kind of license-system tolerate the nuisance for a consideration. One Major, after shutting up a bagnio, actually quartered himself in the house for two weeks, keeping a guard at the door, and living in cohabitation with the mistress, who was kept a close prisoner.

This is the El Dorado of officials. A short term of office serves to make the holder independent; their malversations in office are subjects of public notoriety. The immense amount of confiscated property of every description that falls into their hands, has enriched numbers and is enriching the whole set. Quartermasters, Commissaries, Provost-Marshals, A. A. G.'s and A. D. C.'s, with all the numerous host of clerks, assistants, &c., with wives and families, are living sumptuously in the palatial mansions of the banished secesh, surrounded by a magnificence which must have been to many of them, at first, somewhat perplexing. The same gentry, clerks and detectives, roll through the streets, driving splendid equipages. Whether these equipages are maintained at Government expense, and the animals fed at the Government crib, or not, deponent knoweth not.

In the cotton business the most flagrant abuses have been constantly perpetrated; for instance, an order was issued two weeks ago by Gen. Veatch, peremptorily prohibiting any cotton coming into the lines until the parties had made oath that the cotton was from Tennessee. The consequence was, scores of wagon-loads of cotton from Mississippi were detained at the pickets, or halted on the various roads leading to the city, uncertain whether to haul it back to their homes—probably fifty miles—or throw it off in disgust. At this juncture, a number of harpies in the favor, if not in collusion with the officials, would pounce upon the embarrassed and frightened Mississippians, buy their cotton at a nominal price, and bring it in, having permits to do so. This is only one of a series of trade tricks that have been practiced here for some time past.

A case had just been decided by the Military Commission in this city, which elicited much feeling here and in St. Louis, where the parties formerly resided—I refer to the killing of Col. Cornyn, Tenth Missouri cavalry, by Lieut.-Col. Bowen, of the same regiment, which occurred at Corinth, Miss., in July last. Both officers were extremely popular, and distinguished for gallantry in the field. There seems to have been a bitter feud between them for some time, growing in part out of Bowen's espousing the cause of some officers whom Cornyn wished to punish for some derliction of duty.

This eventuated in an open rupture at a Military Court which both were attending at Corinth. An altercation ensued, when Cornyn, who was of an exceedingly impetuous and irascible temperament, struck Bowen several times, who drew a pistol and shot him. The verdict is a sealed one, and not yet made public. The general impression is that he will be acquitted on the ground of justifiable provocation.

An Indignant Mother Cowskins a Young Man.—The chief topic of conversation in the eastern part of the Second Ward, for a day or two past, was the fact that a young man, with bushy black whiskers, was well cowskinned by an indignant mother of a young lady, who resides in the neighborhood of the Wharton Markets. From all we can learn, it seems that several letters were [illegible] to the young lady in question. One of these [illegible] by the parents. The mother became indignant, and at once made up her mind to chastise the author of the letters. Dressing herself so as to appear like her daughter, she started out on a leisure stroll. The young man whom she was in search of was observed standing at the corner of Third and Washington streets. The mother confronted him, and, catching him suddenly by the collar, went at him with the cowskin, plying the blows thick and fast upon his face and back. She had him at her mercy, because "thrice doubly armed was she who had her quarrel just." The young man was surprised; blinded with the first blow, he wriggled and fought the air. At every shout of murder which he made, she gave him a severe cut, and exclaimed villain! Presently he broke and run, and the indignant parent, following him, cut him severely about the legs as he fled along Jefferson-square.

It was a bold undertaking for a woman, and being successful, she is entitled to all honorable praise. It is said that his face was tatooed completely, so that he might pass himself as a New-Zealander. The whole scene struck a considerable number of spectators with admiration, for they all looked on approvingly, although ignorant of the primitive cause.—Philadelphia Press, Sept. 28.

AFFAIRS IN UTAH.

Fatal Adventures with Grizzly Bears—The Peach Crop—Arrival of Saints—Miscellaneous News.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Salt Lake City, Thursday, Sept. 10, 1863.

The grizzleys have been very active of late in some parts of the Territory, and especially in Cache Valley. The drouth having made their mountain provender scanty, they, impelled by hunger, descend into the cultivated fields in the valleys. I noticed, last week, the accidental death of John Hill, of Wellsville, formerly of this city, who went out with another to catch a depredating grizzly, but in the moonlight was riddled by seven balls from another hunting party, who mistook him for a bear.

A few days ago another bruin rencontre occurred in that county, and resulted fatally, not only to his bearship, but to one of his hunters. I briefly state the particulars: Mr. Ira Rice, of Providence, set a trap to stop the depredations of a bear in an adjacent cornfield. The animal found the trap, but, being indignant, walked away with it, having put his foot in it. Mr. Rice and some companions tracked the depredator to his lair on Logan River. War was immediately opened on him, which he resented, turning upon his enemies. He came into collision with William Dees, spread the man with a sore head upon the earth, and then retreated, carrying back four or five shots safely lodged in his hide. The men then retired in as good order as possible.

The war was renewed the next day by more than a dozen men with shot-guns and revolvers. Bruin was found on the field all ready, and he made good fight, one of his enemies soon making strategic movements toward the tops of the timber adjacent. Two ran, but they were too slow for the bear. They turned, one on each side to let him pass, Alpheus Harmon pulling the trigger at him, but no fire. Bruin closed in and gave Harmon more fight than he wished. Another combatant attempted to put some lead in the bear's ear. Another miss-fire. Still another, Henry Gates, came up and gave the beast a dose of buckshot in the mouth, knocking out several teeth. In return, the beast attacked Gates and tore his legs, arms and face frightfully. Others of the company came up, and three or four revolver-shots were given to the bear, who did not mind them much. William Dees, wounded the day before, then jumped astride of Bruin, and presenting his gun to the tenacious creature's head, ended the conflict. Gates died of his wounds in six days. Harmon is recovering. Brave, but rather inexperienced hunters. Grizzly is not an enemy to be trifled with, nor to be attacked and fought carelessly.

Another serious accident occurred last Thursday. Mr. Matthews, of Ogden, was driving a span of horses with the running gear of a wagon, on the fore part of which he was sitting. The reach became uncoupled, and he was thrown under the horses' feet. The animals, frightened, kicked and ran furiously, seriously injuring the driver.

Judge Drake opened his Court, First District, at Provo, on the 1st instant, but adjourned it without doing any business, the United States Marshal having no funds to carry on the court.

Peaches have been in season since early in August. Large ones sell now in the streets at forty cents per dozen. Ordinary ones bushel for bushel of wheat. Five years ago the price of peaches was six dollars per bushel. Now they are a drug, some persons having a hundred bushel or more on their lots, and no convenience for drying them. Apples are in the background while the peaches last.

On Tuesday night and Wednesday some heavy thunderstorms passed over this city, south winds and black clouds having been threatening for a week or two previous. These were the first showers of any consequence to refresh this parched-up valley since April 22. Too late to help the crops, but the Fall grass on the hills and the prairies may derive some benefit.

The mills have began to grind up the sorghum. Half the crop of last year is generally talked of, which will make molasses scarce and high. This article during the past Summer has been none too plentiful; it has been hard to get, and generally considered "good pay."

I stated that flour was rising. It is now quoted at $7 per hundred in the streets. Two or three months ago it could have been bought for $3. Men from the Idaho mines come to buy with their pounds of gold dust, and state that the supply of breadstuffs at the diggings is exceedingly scant.

The Deseret Dramatic Association are recommencing their studies and rehearsals, so the theatrical season will probably commence early the coming Winter.

Capts. Patterson's, Sanders' and Preston's companies of Mormon immigrants have arrived. Some of the teams bring considerable merchandise and machinery, as well as "brothers and sisters." The immigrants report that the detachment of C. V.'s at Ham's Fork overhaul the trains, make the folks take the oath of allegiance, and confiscate their powder. Now, there seems something extra-official, in fact farcical, in requiring a motley company of British, Irish, Scandinavian, German, Swiss and French emigrants to take the oath of allegiance immediately on their arrival from the "old countries."

Some lively scenes occurred in the city a few days ago. One C. V., apparently with half a brick in his hat, chased another C. V., executing at the same time various brandishing movements with a knife, through the streets. The peace being disturbed, the policemen secured the offender, who was arraigned before Justice Miner. A Captain of the C. V.s appeared as counsel for the defendant. Counsel was very positive on certain points of law, considered his own judgment superior to the Magistrate's, and persisted in informing his Honor of the fact. His Honor called counsel to order repeatedly. Counsel could not keep order. The Court ordered the arrest of counsel, who refused with sundry threatening gestures. After a little scuffling, and a pass or two of the policemen's batons, counsel cooled and submitted. The Court fined counsel $50 for "contempt." Counsel did not like to pay it. Pay or duress the only alternatives. Two or three individuals, who considered themselves friends of all parties, and supposed they had corresponding influence with all parties, endeavored to mediate, and procure a remission of fine. Court immovable. Higher judicial authority appealed to. No appeal in case of "contempt." No extenuating circumstances. Court sustained its decision. Result—refractory counsel paid the fine, and returned to camp sober and wiser.

A cotton factory has been running some time at Parowan, Iron County. Now, Brigham has just started a woolen factory, with 240 spindles, in Kanyon Creek, four or five miles south of this city.

BATTLE WITH THE SIOUX INDIANS.

Their Utter Rout by Gen. Sully's Command.

The Sioux City Register issued an extra, Sept. 15, containing the news of Gen. Sully's recent victory over the Indians in the extreme Northwest, where that officer is at present in command:

Headquarters Department,
Thirtieth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry,
Camp near Fort Pierre, Sept. 10, 1863.

To Capt. S. Bagg, Assistant Quartermaster, Sioux City:

Inclosed you will find dispatches which the General directs to be sent to the nearest telegraph station. They arrived to-night by special courier, and bring the news of a severe battle with the Indians on the 3d instant, about two hundred miles above this point. The engagement resulted in the total rout of the enemy. They fought bravely in regular line of battle until a gallant charge of our entire force, led by our daring and intrepid General, Alfred Sully, drove them howling from the field, leaving one hundred and fifty dead Indians in our hands, beside all their wounded and many prisoners. Their lodges, ponies, dogs, &c., fell into our possession, together with over 200,000 pounds of dried meats and other stores.

E. W. BARTLETT, Lieut.-Col. Com'g.

Prize Court Decision.

Boston, Friday, Oct. 2.

Judge Sprague, of the United States District Court, has issued a decree restoring the ship Banshee, captured off Wilmington by the steamer Niphon, and suspected of an intention of running into that port.

Court of Appeals.

Albany, Friday, Oct. 2.

In the Court of Appeals, Oct. 2, 1863—Day Calendar for Saturday, Oct. 3: Nos. 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, 22, 23 and 24 Special Calendar, and No. 145 General Calendar.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Russian Guests.

The officers of the Russian fleet having formally shaken hands with this huge City, and being its accepted guests, are constantly the recipients of hospitalities and attentions. They are dined, walked, driven, and are, with unconcealed gratification, availing themselves of the many opportunities of seeing us and all around and about us. Yesterday, a number visited Central Park and enjoyed its fine drives and beautiful walks; others were whirled to High Bridge, and others were entertained with City sights of interest.

Next week the public institutions are to be visited, and on Thursday, the banquet, it is expected, will be given. That day is not positively fixed upon, but as it has been intimated as a convenient one for the guests, it probably will be. Baron Stoeckel, the Russian Minister, who is in the City, and is a participant in the gratification felt by his fellow-countrymen at the cordial courtesies extended, will be present at the banquet.

The Common Council of Baltimore have appointed a Committee to visit this City and invite the Russian Admiral and officers to their hospitalities. Admiral Farragut will be invited to accompany them.

While the hospitalities of a richer hue are being showered upon the officers, the jolly, good-natured and well-behaved "Tars" of the fleet, who are allowed daily to come ashore in squads, are the recipients of much attention, and everywhere of kindnesses. They have conducted themselves in such a way as to deserve and insure nothing else. They go through the streets, their faces beaming with gratification at their treatment, at what they see and what they hear, and are as thoroughly a jolly set of "Jacks ashore" as need be. It is a noticeable fact that even the sharpers, who so fall foul of strangers, have kept themselves off these "Roo-shans."

An Honest Traveler.

The day before yesterday, a lady traveling down Broadway in a stage, handed to a young boy a five-cent stamp and a cent to pay the driver the fare. In handing it up he lost the cent, and not having another, was disconcerted and embarrassed. He begged the lady for her address, and assured her that he would send her the cent. The lady, of course, thought no more of the matter, but was much surprised to receive that evening the following note:

Sept. 29, 1863.

Madam: Herein you will find inclosed the cent, which shows that I know at least how to keep my promises. Having thus kept my word, farewell, and believe me,

Yours respectfully,
DAVID B. FAURE.

This little incident is a curiosity of omnibus life.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

The Burning of the Bakery in Fulton Street.—The examination in this case was resumed yesterday, before Justice Dowling, at the Tombs. The testimony adduced was mostly of a rebutting character. Several witnesses testified to the general quarrelsome and vindictive habits of Mrs. Margaret Larkin, the complainant in the case, Some of them had often heard her make threats against Mr. Wilson and his bakery. Two respectable witnesses swore that during the riots in July last, they heard Mrs. L. harangue a mob, and urge the crowd, in strong language, to burn Mr. Wilson's bakery in Cherry-street. Mr. Johnson, the night-watchman of the establishment, whom the complainant alleges was present on the night in question, and aided in setting fire to the building—testified that he was that evening in Second-avenue, making New-Year's calls, and knew nothing of the fire until he was informed of it by the driver of a Second-avenue car; that he immediately hastened down to the bakery, and arrived there at 10 P. M., an hour and a half after the fire broke out, and long after the whole building was enveloped in flames.

The taking of testimony was concluded yesterday, and the case submitted to the Justice without argument. A decision will be rendered on Monday next.

Note.—In the letter of Dr. Lieber, to the Cooper Institute Meeting, the word Vaterlanders was printed for Netherlanders. It was the latter who first in history proclaimed officially and authoritatively, that the Government was the agent of the people, who, therefore, have the right to change it when necessity demands it. In theory, this great principle had been maintained centuries before by those old theologians, who, occasionally cut so deep and sharp with their scholastic logic, and theologians only wrote on Government before the end of the Sixteenth century.

St. Ann's Free Church, Eighteenth-street. This Church initiates, to-morrow, a new movement in the way of a service at 7¾ o'clock A. M. It is belived that many in this City will find it a great convenience.

The Russian Admiral and the officers of the fleet, will visit Niblo's Garden this evening, to witness Mlle. Vesvali in her great personation of "Gamea, or the Jewish Mother."

Readings and Elocution.—Prof. Bronson, who has had great success as a teacher, reopens his school at Cooper Institute next Tuesday evening.

LAW REPORTS.

Proceedings before the Surrogate—Wills Admitted.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

Before Hon. G. J. Tucker, Surrogate.

Additional testimony was taken in the matter of Charles Hopper's will.

Testimony was also taken in the case of John Atridge's will and the Surrogate admitted it to probate.

The Public Administrator's accounts in the estates of Rudolph Van Hugel and Nancy Butler were settled and decrees of administration made.

The wills of Betsy Philips, Rebecca D. Jaffrey, Samuel Hurley, Magdalen Ruden, Ann Wiley, Anne Mack and William G. Sewell were admitted to probate without contest.

The will of Mrs. Wiley leaves $30 to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum.

The contents of the others are of no public interest.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Friday, Oct. 2—P. M.

The price of Gold and Notes of Exchange early in the day were disposed to increased firmness, adverse military reports being industriously circulated on the Street. At the Afternoon Board of the Stock Exchange the sales of Gold fell off to 142⅛ ₩ cent. The business in Exchange for Saturday's mail was very much unsettled, and while there was only a small offering of Bills, the demand from the trade to remit at the present advanced rates was equally moderate. The price of money to the Brokers is 6 ₩ cent. as the rule on the Street. The activity in some of the Railway Stocks for a day or two past at advancing prices, has created a fair demand for loans at call at this rate. At the same time a good many of the old Stock firms on the Street have more money offered to them than they are ready to employ at 6 ₩ cent., and a lower rate is occasionally accepted by outside lenders.

On the Stock Exchange to-day the speculation in the Railways was firm and generally upward. The fight on Michigan Southern turned decidedly in favor of the Bull interest late last evening, and a further rise of 1½@2 ₩ cent. was made at the early Board to-day; raising the difference since Wednesday morning to 7@7½ ₩ cent. At this advance there was some realizing, and the price fell back about ¾@1 ₩ cent. at the Second Board. The business in Reading was very large, and the price went up to 122½@123 ₩ cent. early in the forenoon, closing about 122 ₩ cent. at the second meeting of the Board. The New-York Roads were also firmer than on Thursday, and Michigan Central ¾@1 ₩ cent. higher, Toledo and Rock Island each ¾@1 ₩ cent. higher, and most of the other Western shares sold at or about the full rates of Thursday. The Government Securities continue firm, and there was a large private business in the forenoon in the 7 30 ₩ cent. Treasury Bonds, of which $100,000 was taken by a leading firm in the Foreign Exchanges.

After the Second Board and at 4 o'clock on the Street the general market on the Share list was not so strong, though the differences in prices, after the realizations of the day, were not important as compared with Thursday night:

The Dry Goods Trade has been quite animated throughout the past week, influenced more or less directly by the unfavorable war news, the rise in Gold and Foreign Exchanges, the rapid advance in Cotton, the strong upward tendency in Wool, and the encouraging market reports from England. Stocks have been generally reduced, and assortments lessened materially. Buyers have been eager to secure supplies promptly, as they anticipated a further rise, rather than any considerable falling off, in prices. Domestic Cottons have been very freely purchased, at an improvement of 1c.@2c. ₩ yard, nearly all through the list of seasonable fabrics. Standard heavy brown Sheetings brought 35c.; standard brown Drills, 33c.; Pacific Prints, 21½c.@22c.; 64x64 Printing Cloths, 16½c. ₩ yard; and other desirable domestic Cottons, proportionately advanced rates. The sales of Printing Cloths in the Providence market have been unusually heavy. A very good business has been transacted in Domestic Woolens, the leading styles of which have been held with increased firmness, in view of the moderate supplies immediately available, and the improvement in prices of the raw material, particularly low grades of foreign Wool, which manufacturers have recently been buying extensively, in part ahead of arrival, the stocks of certain descriptions having been inadequate to the requirements of purchasers. The Philadelphia market, according to the North American of this morning, "has been excited and steadily on the advance since the close of last week, owing to the rapid rise in the price of Cotton, and buyers have taken hold freely; the demand, however, is partly speculative, and for Cotton goods generally prices are from 5@15 ₩ cent. higher, with free sales of all the desirable makes of brown goods. Bleached goods are quick and Cotton Flannels scarce, the production of all kinds of goods being very light and the stocks on sale much reduced. Prints are active and 1c. higher, and the tendency still upward. Stripes, Ticks and Checks are in request and bringing higher rates. Woolens have also improved, and the market for all salable goods is very active and the stocks on sale light, particularly fancy Cassimeres and Satinets, which keep well sold up and firm." Large sales of imported goods have been effected this week—the demand absorbing the bulk of the current imports, leaving few, if any, desirable lots to be warehoused. Prices have stiffened with Gold and Exchanges, closing buoyantly, though the high figures now claimed for seasonable fabrics tend to check operations. The Imports of Foreign Dry Goods at the port of New-York for the week ending Oct. 1 were $1,928,778, against $1,548,274 same week last year, and $547,949 the corresponding week of 1861. The following is the summary for the week:

Canadian Flour is improving. Sales, 670 bbls. Extra, at $5 70@$7 [illegible] ₩ bbl. Rye Flour continues in demand at $5 [illegible] for superfine, ₩ bbl.; sales: 500 bbls. Corn Meal is salable and buoyant at $4 35 for Jersey, and $4 75 for Fairfax and Marsh's Caloric, and $4 [illegible] for Brandywine, ₩ bbl. Sales 480 bbls.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—Have been in fair demand at full prices.

FRUIT—The demand has been fair for the principal kinds, including Layer Raisins at $4 35 @$4 40; bunch do., at $4 15@$4 20 ₩ box. Currants, partly to arrive, 15c.@15½c. ₩ lb.

GRAIN—Wheat has been rather more sought after, and has advanced 1c.@2c. ₩ bushel. Sales, since our last, 158,000 bushels, including White Western at $1 50@$1 58, Amber Western at $1 36@$1 43, the latter an extreme rate; Red Western at $1 27@$1 35; inferior do. at $1 20@$1 23; Amber Iowa and Wisconsin at $1 28@$1 39, the latter rate for Green Bay; Milwaukee Club at $1 12@$1 24; Chicago Spring at $1 09@$1 17, and choice new at $1 28@$1 29, and new White Kentucky at $1 75 ₩ bushel. Corn is in active demand, at higher prices; sales have been reported of [illegible]

600 bushels, partly to arrive and from store, at 87½c.@90c., closing at 89c. for sound Mixed Western afloat; 86c.@87½c. for unsound do.; 90c.@91½c. for Yellow Western and White do., ℔ bushel. Rye is in light supply and quiet, at $1 05@$1 12½, according to quality, ℔ bushel. Sales 3,500 bushels. Oats are in lively demand, including Canada at 66c.@73c. Western at 68c.@73c.; State at 71c.@74c., the latter an extreme rate for very choice, ℔ bushel. Barley continues in fair request at $1 25@$1 35 ℔ bushel; sales 4,100 bushels, chiefly to arrive. Barley Malt is selling in lots at $1 50@$1 60 ℔ bushel. The Albany Atlas, of this morning, says: "There is more doing in Barley, the sales being 21,000 bushels Canada West, at $1 30@$1 31; also 2,000 bushels, in car-loads, at $1 20 for two-rowed, $1 22 for four-rowed, and $1 27 for Jefferson County. The receipts of the new crop, so far as reported, are 49,400 bushels' in 1862, against 34,100 bushels in 1863."

GUNNY BAGS AND BAGGING—Continue in limited demand, at 18¾c.@19c., and 14¾c.@15¼c., respectively.

HAY—North River Bale is in fair supply and active request, at 90c.@$1 10 for new, ℔ 100 lbs.

HEMP—Continues quiet, but firm; Manila, 11c.@11½c. ℔ lb. Sales, 1,000 bales.

HIDES—Are in good demand and advancing. We now quote prime Buenos Ayres, selections, at 29c.@29½c.; Montevideo, 28½c., and Orinoco, 26½c., ℔ lb.

HOPS—Are in pretty fair demand to-day at 18c.@23c. for last year's crop, and 22c.@27c. for new, according to quality, ℔ lb. The Cooperstown (N. Y.) Freeman's Journal, of this morning, says: "Hops are rather slow of sale, and we are now of opinion that growers who have entertained extravagant expectations in regard to very high prices, are likely to be disappointed. First sorts will command good prices throughout the year; they are not likely at any time to be cheap; but poor Hops will rule low, and go off slowly. There is at present little or no export demand. A few small lots have been sent over at a venture, but there is no speculative movement. We have heard of a few purchases at 25c. for best quality, but no dealer wishes to buy largely at that figure. The more general range is 20c.@22½c. for first sorts."

IRON—Continues in good request, but the high prices asked tend to check business. We now quote Scotch Pig, $38@$40; No. 1 American do. (nominally) $37 50@$39; Common English Bar, $75@$77 50; Refined do. do., $85@$87 50 ℔ ton; Russian Sheet, 17¾c.@18c. ℔ lb.

LEAD—Pig has been in demand, and quoted buoyant at $8 62½@$8 75 ℔ 100 lbs.

LEATHER—All desirable descriptions have been in lively demand at rising prices.

MOLASSES—Has been in moderate demand and quoted very firm.

NAILS—Are less plenty, and in good request, including cut at 4¾c., and clinch at 5¾c.@6c. ℔ lb.

NAVAL STORES—Have been in limited demand, including Spirits Turpentine at $2 62½@$2 75 ℔ gallon; Resin $32@$38 ℔ 280 lbs; Tar $7 75@$9 ℔ bbl.

OILS—Have been more sought after, and the principal kinds have been quoted, in most instances, higher. Crude Whale at $1@$1 02½; do. Sperm at $1 50@$1 52½; Bleached Winter Whale at $1 10@$1 15; Unbleached Sperm $1 80@$1 90; Linseed $1 35@$1 36; No. 1 Lard at 90c.@$1 07½; City Red 72½c.@75c.; Olive at $1 75 ℔ gallon, and $6 25@$6 50 and $4 37½@$4 50 for pints and quarts; Crude Petroleum at 34c.@35c.; Refined do. 65c.@67c. ℔ gallon.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been in brisk demand, partly for future delivery, at buoyant prices. Sales, since our last, 6,400 bbls., in lots, at $14 25 for New Mess, here; $14 50 in part for do., deliverable in November; $12 87½@$13, chiefly $13, for Old Mess, and $10 25@$10 50 for Prime, ℔ bbl. Cut Meats rule quiet, at 8¾c.@9½c. for Hams, and 5¾c.@6¼c. for Shoulders, ℔ lb. Bacon is in more request at 6½c.@9½c., according to quality, ℔ lb.; sales 400 boxes. Lard is decidedly firmer; sales 3,000 tcs. and bbls. for immediate and future delivery, at 10¾c.@11¼c. ℔ lb. Beef continues quiet, but firm; sales 250 bbls., at $13 75@$15 for Extra Mess, and $10 50@$13 25 for Plain Mess, ℔ bbl. Butter is in good demand, at 18c.@23c. for poor to choice Western, and 20c.@26c. for common to prime State, ℔ lb. Cheese is in lively request, at 10½c.@14½c. ℔ lb.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Advices from Gen. ROSECRANS to the 1st inst. have been received at Washington. He states that his position at Chattanooga is perfectly satisfactory, and that there is no prospect of BRAGG's advance to the attack. The report from the rebel papers that Gen. BURNSIDE had evacuated Jonesboro, East Tennessee, and retired to Knoxville, is pronounced to be false.

Gov. BOREMAN, of Western Virginia, has issued a proclamation announcing that he has information that the rebel Generals, IMBODEN, JACKSON and maybe others, contemplate a movement of their forces through the mountains into that State for the purpose of devastating and laying waste the country and robbing, plundering and murdering the people. He, therefore, calls upon all officers of the militia and all persons subject to military duty within the State to have their arms in order and be ready to assemble at their usual places of rendezvous at a moment's notice, and to move to any point when their services may be required. The Wheeling Intelligencer says the proclamation has occasioned considerable excitement among the people, who are already vigorously preparing to meet, with arms in their hands, any enemy who may appear.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 29th ult., states the "House of Delegates, yesterday, in the most summary manner, disposed of a resolution for inquiring into the tone and temper of the people of the United States, on the subject of peace, with a view to responding, if favorable. The House know, what everybody knows, that such resolutions are both idle and mischievous; for they will only be taken by our enemies as evincing more or less readiness on our part for reconstruction. The House by a unanimous vote put its foot on the resolution and without a word of discussion or a moment of delay. In this they but fairly represented the manliness and the unanimity of our people."

FROM EUROPE.

Advices from Europe, three days later, have come by the steamship Saxonia, which passed Cape Race yesterday. The truth of the rumor that MASON, the rebel envoy, intended to withdraw from Great Britain, in consequence of the rudeness to which he has been persistently subjected, is confirmed. He has officially notified Earl RUSSELL of his withdrawal, in obedience to instructions from the rebel Government. The London Times editorially admits that the fate of Charleston is decided, its fall being simply a question of time. The Florida has completed her repairs at Brest, and was to leave port on the 23d ult. Two United States war vessels had come from Madeira to watch the pirate's movements. One of these vessels was at Lisbon and the other at Brest. The statement is made that the commander of the Florida intended to offer the first one battle, while her colleague remained at Brest undergoing repairs. It is asserted in France that Great Britain has engaged to acknowledge the usurpation in Mexico as soon as MAXIMILIAN officially announces his acceptance of the Crown. Several engagements are reported to have taken place recently between the Poles and Russians, in which the latter were defeated. No commercial advices have been received.

GENERAL NEWS.

A mass meeting was held at Cooper Institute last evening to welcome the Missouri Delegation, who recently visited the President on matters connected with their State. The meeting was under the auspices of the National Club, was large in number and enthusiastic in feeling.

Havana dates to the 26th ult. have come to hand. The latest accounts from San Domingo state that the insurrection was not yet suppressed, but no very intelligible condition of the exact state of affairs had been made public at Havana. A Spanish force of 2,000 men under Gen. SANTANA, we are told, left Santo Domingo on the 15th ult. for La Vega, where the insurgents are said to be strongly fortified. Gen. SANTANA was accompanied by Gen ROCCA, Military Governor of Santo Domingo, who, according to one account, was driven out of the city with his troops, and the fact of his starting with the expedition to La Vega is considered to be confirmatory of the rumor of his expulsion. Various skirmishes and engagements, always resulting adversely to the rebels, are reported to have taken place, but the character of the statements is confused and unsatisfactory. Reinforcements for the Spanish army were still being sent from Havana and Porto Rico.

A gentleman who has just returned from England, after a prolonged tour in that country, informs the Boston Traveller, that the United States Consul at Liverpool felt confident of being able to accumulate sufficient testimony to justify the course of the English Government in detaining the rebel rams, just completed at that port. Arrangements were making before the order of detention was received to man the vessels with British sailors, preparatory to their departure for the coast of the United States.

While Adjt.-Gen. THOMAS was on the passage up the Mississippi from Helena, recently, he discovered a Lieutenant-Colonel of a Missouri regiment intoxicated, and behaving in a most shameful manner. The General told him he had disgraced the service, tore off his shoulder-straps, put him under guard, and dismissed him from the service.

E. F. CARTER, editor of the Baltimore Gazette, has had a partial hearing before DON PIATT. He was remanded to prison. One offence charged against the whole concern is the publishing a secret edition of their paper for the Southern latitude, which was clandestinely sent South to injure and misrepresent our Government, whilst the said articles were omitted in the Baltimore edition.

There was an active business in Stocks yesterday, generally at firm prices. The sales of Government Stocks were $976,000 of the popular 5-20 year 6 per cent. Loan, and $100,000 in the 7.30 per cent. Treasury Loan of 1861–64. The Railway Shares were steady in price at the close of the day, after heavy transactions in Reading, Michigan Southern, Illinois Central, &c. Gold closed about the same as on Thursday night—142⅞ per cent.

Breadstuffs were more active yesterday, at advanced prices. Pork, Lard, Butter, Cheese, Tallow, Whisky, Cotton, Hay, Hides, Leather, Wool, Tobacco, Currants and Fish Oils were more sought after, at rising rates. A fair demand prevailed for Fish, Laths, Lime, Hops, Sugars, Linseed Oil, Salt, Seed and Spices. Freights were rather more active.

A RUMOR OF RECOGNITION.—Europe is troubled with sensation rumors as well as our own country. Among the most recent was one prevailing at Paris that MAXIMILIAN I., Emperor elect of Mexico, had recognized the independence of the Confederate States. But this rumor was pronounced improbable, from the fact that MAXIMILIAN had not yet been formally offered the crown by the deputation from Mexico charged with the duty of tendering it. This does seem a bar sinister to the report that has doubtless ere this given much joy in Dixie.

But really, if recognition is to come to the rebels, there is no more fit source than the one indicated. An unannounced and unanointed Emperor, four thousand miles removed from the throne he is expected to fill—having no knowledge of the people he is to govern, no home in their affections, and no title to his proposed station—himself yet waiting to be "recognized" by the Power that has never yet brooked the intrusion of European dynasties on this Continent—MAXIMILIAN alone, of all rulers present and prospective, could give a recognition to the Confederates that would be absolutely senseless and devoid of moral power against the United States, and yet most calculated to excite the jealousy, sting the pride, and arouse the energies of the North American people.

England and the Rebel Rams.

We trust the British Government is in earnest in its purpose to prevent the departure from its ports of war vessels for the rebel fleet. It is quite time that the responsible rulers of that country began to realize that they have something to do in this matter beside splitting hairs and lamenting the looseness of acts of Parliament. They can scarcely expect to dwell and deal in sophistries forever. The obligations of neutrality do not rest solely on the requirements of municipal law. Whether it be forbidden by British statutes or not, it is clearly an act of hostility toward this country to lend active aid to its enemies in their war upon it. Whether the British Government can or cannot prevent its citizens from doing so, is a matter of purely domestic concern. If it can, it will consult its own interests by doing so. If it cannot, we have no alternative but to do it ourselves.

The rams now building in British ports have nothing uncertain about either their character, their destination or the service they are designed to render. There is not a man of common sense on either side the sea who doubts for one moment that they are designed to prey upon American commerce. It may be convenient, possibly for domestic purposes it may be necessary, that Earl RUSSELL and the law officers of the British Government should be ostentatiously fastidious in requiring proof of this fact, as a condition of their taking action. They may make themselves liable in damages to some of their subjects if they seize the vessels without full legal warrant. But they have to decide whether to risk this payment of damages or to risk war with the United States; for we take it for granted that war will certainly follow the departure of those rams on the errand for which they have been built. Their departure, under the circumstances, will be an act of war—not open and avowed, but all the more offensive because of its stealthy and deceptive character. And we shall be surprised if our Government does not instruct our naval officers, in case they are allowed to go to sea, to chase them into any British port and destroy them there, without the slightest regard to the neutrality of British waters.

An evening journal has called attention to a British precedent which would almost warrant the destruction of these vessels before their departure, if there are good grounds for anticipating that event. The steamer Caroline, while Canada was in rebellion against Great Britain, was filled with munitions of war in an American port, and was destined for the service of the provincial rebels. Without waiting for proof of the fact,—without relying in the least on the action of the American Government to prevent this violation of its own neutrality laws, a British force cut the vessel out of the neutral port in which she was sheltered, and destroyed her. The British Government justified the act on the ground of necessity; and Lord ASHBURTON, the British Minister, thus laid down the principles by which all such cases should be controlled:

> "If Great Britain, America, or any other country suffer their people to fit out expeditions to take part in distant quarrels, such conduct may, according to the circumstances of each case, be justly subject of complaint; and perhaps these transactions have generally, in late times, been too much overlooked or connived at. But the case we are considering is of a wholly different description, and may be best determined by answering the following questions: Supposing a man standing on ground where you have no legal right to follow him has a weapon long enough to reach you, and is striking you down and endangering your life, how long are you bound to wait for the assistance of the authority having legal power to relieve you? Or, to bring the fact more immediately home to the case, if cannon are moving and setting up in a battery which can reach you, and are actually destroying life and property by their fire, if you have remonstrated for some time without effect, and see no prospect of relief, when begins your right to defend yourself, should you have no other means of doing so than by seizing your assailant on the verge of a neutral territory?"

We should be sorry to see the precedent thus set and justified, followed by our Government. We applaud its forbearance in trusting rather to the slow-returning sense of justice and of good policy on the part of the British Government. We trust that reliance will not prove to have been misplaced. If it does, we shall look for very prompt and effectual measures of redress on the part of our Government.

HECTORING THE GOVERNMENT.—The "Missouri delegation" who lately made an irruption, one hundred strong, upon the White House and set forth a programme which they required Mr. LINCOLN to pursue, have broken up into squads and commenced a series of popular appeals in different parts of the land in behalf of their schemes.

They obtained a hearing in our City, last night,—but if the tone of the speeches delivered and of the resolutions adopted is the measure of their loyalty and respect for the established authorities of the Nation, the President will be held excused from paying any further attention to their demands.

Insubordination breathes throughout all they say or do—and their purpose would seem to be to ruin the Administration if they cannot rule it.

THE HONORS PAID TO THE RUSSIAN NAVAL OFFICERS.—The cordial welcome extended by our citizens to the Russian naval officers now in the country, has been as gratifying to them as honorable to us. It cannot fail to impress most favorably the rulers of the great Empire in whose service these officers are engaged. It was a graceful and timely recognition of the friendly relations which have long existed between the two countries, and will aid, doubtless, in rendering them of longer duration.

Just in proportion as we value these demonstrations of international courtesy, are we unwilling to see them made the occasion for differences with other nations. The Mayor of Baltimore, we observe, recommends to the Common Council that the Russian officers be invited to that City, expressly on the ground that the friendly conduct of Russia toward this country stands in striking contrast with that of England and France. We doubt very much whether these gentlemen would feel honored by a compliment, the declared motive of which is to insult two great nations with which both Russia and the United States maintain the most friendly relations. It certainly is not becoming the dignity of any municipal corporation, nor is it conducive to the public welfare, thus to invite distrust and justify hostility which hitherto we have done nothing to incur.

Nothing during the very critical period through which we are passing has been more marked or more honorable to the Government of the United States, than the steady fidelity with which, under circumstances of the greatest possible provocation, it has discharged all the requirements of justice and of courtesy in its intercourse with foreign Powers. It has by this action not only averted the perils of foreign war, but it has maintained the dignity of the country in a manner which cannot fail to command permanent and universal respect. We should be very sorry to see anything done, in any official quarter, calculated to impair the salutary results of the policy thus far most successfully pursued. The visit of Russian vessels of war to our waters is an event sufficiently rare to warrant its commemoration by municipal ceremonies; we hope nothing will be done, here or elsewhere, to convert it into an occasion of needless offence with other Powers. Whatever complaints we may have against them can best be urged by the Government through the ordinary channels of communication, and without needless irritation from any quarter.

MASON AND SLIDELL.—The Confederate emissaries, MASON and SLIDELL—MASON in England and SLIDELL in France—have met with very different treatment from the respective Governments to which they were accredited. SLIDELL has been on the most intimate terms with members of the Emperor's Cabinet—has maintained the closest semi-official relations with the French Government—has hob-nobbed with the Emperor, and followed him up in all his trips and tours—has even got on the best footing with the Empress, and had long interviews with her Majesty. He lives in splendid style, gives grand banquets, drives unsurpassed horses, has plenty of money, and the only thing lacking to his happiness is that he should be known in Paris by his Louisiana title of the "Duke of Houmas."

But with poor MASON it has been all different. His circumstances, reception and treatment in England have been the very opposite of SLIDELL's in France. And the attitude of the British Government in regard to him and his labors has been such that the Confederate organ in London, the Index, indicated lately his early recall, and it is announced in the foreign news this morning that MASON has actually sent to Earl RUSSELL a notification that he has been instructed by the Richmond Government to withdraw from England. The London Herald lately discussed the rumored recall, and said "it is in consequence of the systematic rudeness with which he has been treated by RUSSELL;" and farther hinted that it is "through the suggestion of Mr. ADAMS that MASON has been excluded from official intercourse with the British Government." Of course, all this at the hands of British Abolitionists must have made the choleric old Virginian feel perfectly horrible; and we do not wonder that he has left England in disgust, particularly since the decision in the ram question is likely to be adverse to the Confederacy. As MASON will surely try to come back to this country, we hope our cruisers and blockaders will keep a sharp lookout for the ship on which he may sail or try to enter the South. We may have as good luck in catching him this time as we had on a previous occasion, and we may not have the same impediments in the way of administering to him justice.

CHICKAMAUGA.—The Richmond Examiner remarks that there is very little rejoicing at the South over their victory at Chickamauga, for, though certain defensive ends were subserved, such as the temporary salvation of Georgia and Alabama, "the enemy hold Chattanooga and East Tennessee, which were the prizes of the battle." This is perfectly true, and JEFF. DAVIS himself expressed the idea with equal force, if with less elegance, when he said before the battle that his purpose was to "snatch Tennessee from the clutch of the Abolitionists." Failing to obtain a foothold in that State, BRAGG's victory was a disaster, and the fact that, though a fortnight has elapsed since the battle, no renewed attempt has been made to carry out the design, would indicate that JEFF. DAVIS will soon again have to make the mournful confession he made eighteen months ago, that the Confederacy "has undertaken more than it has the means of achieving."

STRATEGY.—On Monday last, as we learn from the Richmond Examiner, Gen. LEE sent an official dispatch to JEFF. DAVIS, announcing that the "Eleventh and Twelfth corps of the Army of the Potomac had been sent to reinforce ROSECRANS." The public have not yet been informed from Washington whether or not Gen. LEE's information was perfectly accurate, or whether the War Department had succeeded in putting him off the scent. But, in a hundred years from now, when the history of this war shall be written, and it will be safe to reveal the movements of regiments and divisions, if it should be found that LEE knew when we were sending regiments from his front, where we were sending them to, and what regiments we were sending, it may be asked why our authorities did not know when LEE was sending reinforcements to BRAGG, and what number of regiments he was sending. If, then, however, it shall be seen that LEE was misinformed, and acted upon his misinformation, some of our Generals or functionaries may be credited by the historian with a wonderful deal of shrewdness.

THE AMERICAN QUESTION.

Interesting Views of an American Abroad.

Extract of a Private Letter from an American Gentleman in Europe.

ETRETAT, (France,) Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1863.

* * * You are not cheerful on the subject of the war; you are too near the details, and shortcomings, and blunderings, and allow them, perhaps, too much consideration. In spite of all that, great progress is made, and the war seems to me to go on as fast as the slow revolution and re-formation of political and social opinions in the North will admit.

We must not forget that the North was unprepared for the altered conditions which must inevitably result from the suppression of the rebellion, and that the war cannot be brought to an end till public opinion is revolutionized and ready to accept all the issues and results. Some of us desire to bring back the past, some to arrest the course of events and stop where we are, and others have made up their minds to push on and accept all that the future may produce. But we cannot return to Egypt, nor can we enter the promised land; we must tarry in the wilderness till we are prepared to go forward together and accept the whole future.

This transition state of public opinion, which is reflected by the Executive, is I think the chief cause of delay and even of bad management of the war. Neither Mr. LINCOLN nor the great Moses with his high inspirations had strength enough to pre-mature and unite the public mind; it is subject to a law which operates slowly, and we must be patient—but it does move!

As to outside affairs, I think with you that our chief danger is from France. Since Vicksburgh and Gettysburgh, however, things have changed. The conquest of the Mississippi and the repulse of LEE are eternal events. The Emperor acknowledges the mastery of events and studies and follows them; he is also cautious and even timid, and when he ventures, steals in.

His Mexican views and hopes are not changed, but as regards the South he is all a-back, and we may keep him in stays till he changes his course. As to England, no sensible person fears her. She talks worse than she acts. She won't dare to let out the iron-clads. PALMERSTON always talks boldly and impudently when he has made up his mind to yield. But what is really essential to know and appreciate is the state of his stomach. His life depends on office—out, he can't live three months; in, he may last years. Peace is the only condition on which he can stay in, and he will stay in. Outside affairs look well enough, and I expect to hear of the completion of the draft, which will make things look better inside, and for the rest we must accept the slow operation of natural causes.

But I confess to one source of uneasiness—the finances. We can carry a debt to two or three or four thousand millions, but in order to do this or anything of the sort it is necessary to study and understand the science of taxation. The crude and rude system we have improvised and inaugurated is inadequate to the increasing necessities, and the more the cords are drawn the less the net will bring in. The sole consideration of prosperity and strength in a house or corporation or a nation is not wealth but a sound system of finance. With it all are strong and without it all are weak, whether rich or poor. Mr. CHASE has begun well, but the great and permanent work is yet to do. I have no doubt of his ability to learn as he goes along, and in the end to work out and establish a sound and practical system that would take care of a debt of two to four thousand millions without distress or much more than a healthy grumbling. But Mr. CHASE will go out by or before he is master of the situation, and be followed by one who knows but little about it. As to the people or Congress on this subject, don't speak of it. Even in a mercantile house of half-a-dozen partners, one can do the finances where all would spoil them. If you will set Mr. CHASE, or Mr. FOULD, or Mr. GLADSTONE, or any man of real ability and judgment to study the sources and subject of Revenue and keep him at it, he will understand it so much better than others that, with the aid of an honest Congress, the Finances, and the Commerce, and the Industry of the country will all prosper, and taxes will be little felt where property is so distributed and everybody so well off as with us. Then change your man and bring in a politician, and your finances will soon be a prey to interests seeking protection, exemption or favor—revenue will fall short, and what then? Markets upset, derangement of values, and everything in confusion. I believe in the political instincts of the people and have faith in their honesty, but they can't manage great finances, and there is our danger.

The subject indicates one of these changes in our system which the new Republic will require; but what confusion and distress must we go through before we adopt the remedy?

Loss of the Sloop Eliza—Safety of the Crew.

The British bark Winthrop, Capt. MOULTON, from Matamoras, arrived at this port last evening. She reports that on Sept. 21, lat. 30° 25′, lon. 78° 40′ at 9 A. M., a vessel was seen with a flag of distress flying. Kept off for her, and she proved to be the sloop Eliza, of Nassau, with mast and rudder gone, and in a sinking condition. Took off the Captain and crew, and brought them to this port. The Captain, THOS. GEO. MOLLO, of the Eliza, reports that he sailed from Green Turtle Key Aug. 29, bound to Key West, with a cargo of pineapple-slips, and on the 9th September, off the Great Bahama Bank, in a gale from southeast and east-southeast, was blown off and lost rudder; tried to get inside the northwest part of Matainilla Reef on the 16th, but it was blowing so heavy from east-southeast and southeast was compelled to scud before the wind. At 5 P. M. cut away the mast, it then blowing very heavy from southeast. At 8 A. M. a man was washed overboard, but they succeeded in recovering him with a line. The crew was engaged twelve days steering with oars. On the 16th the sloop sprung aleak, and could not be kept free. On the 21st, lat. 30° 26′, lon. 79°, was taken off by Capt. MOULTON, of the bark Winthrop, of Bermuda. The Eliza was eight tons burden, and her crew consisted of a Captain and two men.

Arrival of the United States Steamer Newbern.

The United States steamer Newbern, Capt. T. A. HARRIS, arrived at this port last evening from the North Atlantic Blockading Squadron, and from Wilmington Bar, Sept. 26, via Fortress Monroe. She will sail again from this port on the 6th inst. for the North Atlantic Blockading Squadron. All letters and packages sent to the Lyceum at the Navy-yard, New-York, will be promptly forwarded to the fleet.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Oct. 3.

THE MISSOURI-KANSAS TROUBLES.

The President is understood to desire further testimony for the Missouri delegation to substantiate the charges against Gen. SCHOFIELD, before making a reply to their address. The interview of the Executive Committee with the President did not take place to-day, owing to his being engaged at the War Department. It is expected he will receive them to-morrow.

FIELD OFFICERS FOR THE INVALID CORPS.

The following field officers have been appointed to the regiments of the Invalid corps, recently organized:

Colonels—Richard H. Rush, Geo. N. Morgan, F. D. Sewall, A. J. Johnson, A. A. Stevens, M. N. Kiswell, A. Y. Johnson, B. J. Sweet, George H. Gile, D. P. Dewitt, B. S. Porter, A. Farnsworth, J. Hendrickson, F. O. Cahill, J. C. Strong, C. M. Prevost.

Lieutenant-Colonels—J. D. Oliphant, O. V. Dayton, G. S. Jennings, D. K. Warswell, G. W. Beal, George A. Woodward, Chas. H. Frederick, Pierre C. Kane, Chas. J. Johnson, John H. Bell, John S. Peidel, A. H. Poten, A. P. Carraber, Carlile Boyd, Louis Schaffner.

These officers have not been assigned to regiments owing to the limits of their commands not being fixed. The whole number of commissioned officers appointed on the corps to date is 383.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 2.

THE CASE OF THE ARMY NEWS AGENT.

JOHN M. LAMB, the newspaper contractor for the Army of the Potomac, who was arrested at Alexandria last week on the charge of smuggling quinine through our lines, has been examined by Col. WELLS, commandant of the post, and discharged. Papers were regularly furnished by Mr. LAMB's agents during his imprisonment.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZE MONEY.

As there seems to be a misapprehension about prize money, it may be proper to state that the Courts determine what parties are entitled to share in the specified net proceeds, which, in pursuance of law, are paid by the Marshals into the Treasury. The lists are furnished by the Navy Department to the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury, who makes the disposition. It has been erroneously published in the newspapers that only $100,000 had been awarded to the captors, as the first official report on that subject, made to Congress in February last, states the amounts ordered to be distributed at $1,769,000.

THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR EASTERN VIRGINIA.

The United States District Court for Eastern Virginia will open at Alexandria, for the first time since the rebellion commenced, on Monday next. Its principal business will be the adjudication of many cases under the Confiscation act, as preliminary to the sale of rebel estates. The published statement that such property is to be sold on the abovementioned day is therefore erroneous.

THE MISSOURI-KANSAS DELEGATION.

The Sub-Committee of the Missouri and Kansas delegations do not expect another interview with the President before next Monday. They called to-day, but he was busy with Cabinet affairs.

RESTRICTIONS UPON TRADE.

Although the blockade of Alexandria has been nominally raised, the restrictions of the pass system materially militates against the trade of importation.

THE KICKAPOO LANDS.

The suspension of the Kickapoo treaty continues awaiting the return of Commissioner DOLE, who has been investigating in Kansas the circumstances under which it was made. The treaty involves the possession of the best lands in the State, and affects railroad and agricultural interests.

THE NORTHERN PEACE PARTY.

From the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, Sept. 9.

Our people will recollect that two or three or more months ago we heard a great deal, and that continually, of the wonderful things the peace men of the North were going to do. Many in our midst built strong hopes of peace on the action of the malcontents in LINCOLN's realm. Many even were proposing terms of peace, inviting the Northwest to a free use of our Mississippi, and actually going so far as to ask the Northwestern States to abandon New-England and the Middle States, and come with us under our Pro Slavery Constitution. But since about the 4th of July, since the capitulation of Vicksburgh and the retreat from Pennsylvania, we have heard scarcely a whisper of peace from beyond the Potomac. The people of the United States have become elated at their successes, and have gone crazy on the sensation of crushing the rebellion and subjugating the insurgent States.

We confess that we have always built strong hopes on the division and dissatisfaction of the Northern people, the gradual but sure growth of an outspoken peace party, and the final outbreak of the insurrectionary elements which exist among the enemy, but which, by one means or other, has so far been smothered or checked. But we have always held that the only way to build up a peace party among the Yankees, and to set at liberty the furious opposition of the Anti-Republicans, was by successful war on LINCOLN's armies in the field. We still have great expectations from the peace men of the North and the explosive wrath of the opposition masses, but we were never more fully convinced than now of the essential importance of thick, fast and heavy blows from the Confederate armies, in order to give vitality, system and organization to the peace men, and to unloose the fierce impulses of the enthralled and terrorized people. Mr. VALLANDIGHAM himself, as we have heard, most emphatically declared that the success of Southern arms alone could give strength and consistency to the peace movement; and we verily believe that if Vicksburgh had been held, and LEE had thoroughly defeated MEADE on his own ground, the Woods and Coxes and Vallandighams and their followers would have been rampant for peace and separation, and that not one drafted man would ever have worn the United States uniform—the livery of a hireling or degraded soldier—in the City of New-York. But Vicksburgh fell, and LEE failed to overwhelm MEADE, and so the peace men are as mute as frightened mice, and the drafted rowdies are forced easily into the ranks.

This popular feeling must be checked and changed, and there is no means of doing it but by a determined and successful conflict at one or more points. The heroic holding out of Charleston helps us to some extent, but something more must be done. The election for Governor of Ohio takes place early in November, we believe, and the new Yankee Congress meets in December. In order favorably to affect the Ohio election and the organization and action of the new Congress, a majority of which is against the Republican party, but not firmly decided as to anything else, it is to the last degree essential that the Confederate armies win one or more decisive battles within the next thirty or sixty days. If JOHNSTON and BRAGG can defeat ROSECRANS and BURNSIDE, Charleston still holding out, or if LEE, with his recruited army, can defeat MEADE with all the aid of his new conscripts, demoralized and disaffected as they are represented, then we may expect the most favorable results in the Ohio election and Lincoln Congress. But unless something of the kind is accomplished speedily, then a long farewell to peace party—VALLANDIGHAM will be defeated and WOOD and his party paralyzed or overawed in Congress, and peace postponed indefinitely without foreign aid.

PRESIDENTIAL.

In the second meeting of the Union Club of the Germans in Maryland, held in Turner Hall, Baltimore, a few days ago, the following among other resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we will send delegates to express our views and wishes to the Convention of Germans to be held the 18th day of October, 1863, at Cleveland, Ohio.

Resolved, That we consider any attempt for making a Presidential nomination in Cleveland as untimely and improper. However, should such an attempt be made, then we, in acknowledgment of the merits of the present Administration, desire that our delegates shall advocate the renomination of President LINCOLN by the coming National Convention; but should the nomination of this National Convention fall upon another candidate we will submit to the majority and support such a nominee.

The Arabia Outward Bound.

HALIFAX, Friday, Oct. 2.

The Royal Mail steamship Arabia, from Boston, arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning, and sailed at 4 o'clock for Liverpool. New-York advices up to Thursday night were placed on board.

Arrivals in the City.

Hon. J. W. Denver, Cal.; J. L. Lyon, Mexico; W. P. de Normandie, Texas; Maj. F. T. Dent, U. S. Army, and A. M. Stratton, St. Louis, are at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Gen. J. T. Sprague, Albany; Capt. Minot, Boston; Hon. C. Vibbard, Albany; M. L. Sykes, Chicago; José Sanchez, Consul from Venezuela, and J. H. French, Cincinnati, are at the St. Nicholas Hotel.

Edmund Tweedy, Danbury, Conn.; C. C. Tiffany, Conn., and J. H. Cheney, Philadelphia, are at the Albemarle Hotel.

Gen. Barry left the Astor House for Philadelphia yesterday morning.

FROM THE WEST INDIES.

The Insurrection in St. Domingo—Concentration of Troops—Loss of the Steamer Mexico.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Saturday, Sept. 26, 1863.

The latest news from St. Domingo represents that some successes had been obtained by the Spanish troops over the insurgents. The column that, under the command of Col. CAPPA, left Puerto-Plata in order to relieve the troops besieged in Santiago de los Caballeros, had had an engagement with the insurgents before they arrived at the latter city. Brigadier BUCETA also sallied out with the garrison, in order to cut off their retreat, and thus placed between two fires, they were completely routed. With reference to this success, the Captain-General, RIVERO, had issued the following proclamation:

> INHABITANTS OF SAINT DOMINGO: According to official dispatches received last night from Puerta Plata, a new triumph has come to crown the efforts of our brave troops. On the 6th inst., when the column of Col. CAPPA effected a junction with the forces at Santiago, an obstinate struggle took place, in which the enemies of order and of Her Majesty's throne were completely defeated with great loss; this was done by the decided courage and impetuosity of our soldiers. The enemy fled in confusion toward Guayabin. I inform the public of this for the satisfaction of the good and loyal inhabitants of this province.
> Your Captain-General, FELIPE RIVERO.
> ST. DOMINGO, Sept. 16, 1863.

By telegraph we have news from Santiago de Cuba up to the 22d inst. A steamer had entered that port with thirty wounded soldiers from Puerta Plata. Gen. GANDARA arrived at the latter city on the 17th inst., and was organizing a plan of operations against the revolted. To this end he had concentrated all his forces in Puerta Plata, where he had collected the various forces under Brig. BUCETA, Col. CAPPA and Brigader PRIMO DE RIVERO. The briefness of the telegrams exclude more details, but it is asserted that the state of affairs had very much improved. Gen. GANDARA was of opinion that he required only one more battalion to be prepared for either attack or defence; but his application has been anticipated by the sending on of two battalions.

The insurrection, then, is confined to the Province of Cibao, and we are informed by the Government organs, that an excellent spirit prevailed in all other districts. On the 15th inst., Gen. SANTANA left the capital at the head of a large force. He directed his march to San Pedro, where he augmented his troops to the number of 3,000, and with these proposes to begin the campaign in La Vega.

A correspondent of the Diario, in a letter dated the 11th, observes:

> "We may say that the insurrection continues as it was—it neither gains nor loses ground. On the road between Puerto Plata and Santiago, there have been some collisions of some importance; for, although the rebels are deficient in discipline, they have in their favor the roughness of the ground, which is favorable in small bands. * * * It is reported here that the rebels have only strengthened their positions in La Vega. If it be so, their ignorance must amount to stupidity, because the points in which they could have most successfully offered resistance are the passes of the mountains of Cibao, and especially two places called 'Sillon de la Vinda,' and 'Loma de los Palos,' precipitous rocks that, like the Puerto Plata road, are well adapted to the sort of war which the discontented wish to wage. But to make their stand in La Vega is not only to leave those points unprotected, but to offer a safe and easy triumph to the Government troops, for the ground of that town and neighboring country is not at all uneven, but is well adapted for the operations of a regular army."

Gen. MANSUETTA, of the Dominican Reserves, at the head of a militia force, occupies the position called "La Zambrana," one of the strongest defiles of the Cibao Mountains. The insurgents have not dared to attack him.

A Santiago de Cuba journal remarks: "There is one circumstance that makes it just now impossible to indicate the true point where the rebellion began, and it is, that the commanding officer of the district being on the very scene of these events, and when from foresight he had gone to frustrate them, the officer left in command at Santiago only became aware of the news by desultory and unconnected reports, for the first care of the rebels was to intercept all communication. Consequently, we cannot say what was the first blow struck, whether the attack on the small detachment which escorted the Brigadier at the burning of Guayabin. A detachment of infantry and cavalry, under the command of the brave Colonel of the Lancers of Africa, left Santiago for the points occupied by the rebels, and to open communication with the corps of Brigadier BUCETA. On the other side of the plains of Esperansa they found the enemy posted. After a slight brush, the latter fled to the mountains. This victory was gained at the expense of the life of the gallant officer their leader. Whether in consequence of this victory, or some other cause, Brigadier BUCETA was able to return in safety to Santiago after serious dangers."

On the authority of a letter from Puerto Plata, and dated the 13th inst., it is asserted that Santiago de Los Cabelleros has been destroyed by fire. Among the insurgent prisoners is a priest, Father DORADO, a man of about sixty years of age. He has been sent to Havana in the steamer Isabel la Catolica.

From Mexico we have not heard lately. The Spanish steamer Mexico, which I mentioned had not arrived, is still unheard of. A war steamer was sent out to look for it, but after an absence of five days, has returned with no tidings, and there is little room for doubt as to its loss.

A line of steamships, between Havana, Havre and Corunna, is about to be established—one leaving Havre on the first of each month. They will have accomodations for 200 passengers and storage for 3,000 or 4,000 boxes of sugar.

Several bandits of considerable fame have been caught lately, among them one who has caused much trouble in the region of Villa Clara. He is called MATHIAS RODRIGUEZ, alias EL ISTENO. He was shot by Lieut.-Gov. GONZALEZ; but the latter was stabbed in the back at the time by one of the bandit's comrades, known as EL GRILLO, who escaped with the rest to the mountains.

This morning an English steamer came in, purporting to be from St. John, N. B., via Nassau, but she looks rather suspicious. I heard yesterday that she arrived at Matanzas in the morning in search of coal. Her name is the Union. She is a side-wheel steamer of 300 tons burden.

LARA.

Brooklyn News.

THE KINGS COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—At a meeting of the Board held yesterday afternoon, the Committee on Court-house reported in favor of canceling the contract with the carpenters on the new Court-house, and making a new one for $18,874. The contract for furnishing the Supervisors' room in the new building was awarded to J. WOLF at $2,625. A communication from the State Comptroller was received, stating that the amount of State tax to be raised the current year in the County of Kings would be $490,738 02, being 5 mills on the dollar.

THE THIRD DISTRICT EXAMINING BOARD.—The Third District Examining Board continued their investigations yesterday and disposed of the following:

Substitutes	7	Non-residents	3
Held	14	Over age	4
Paid commutation	4	Under age	7
Disability	31	Aliens	17
Only sons	3	In the service	1
Total			91

Numbers under 2,831 were to be called to-day.

RELIEVED FROM THE DRAFT.—The Common Council of Brooklyn relieved the following persons from the draft yesterday: Fifth Ward, Patrick Oaks; Sixth Ward, R. G. Valentine; Seventh Ward R. Bobb, Dennis Slattery, C. Joost, C. Sullivan; Tenth Ward, Wm. Birch, W. G. Brown, (colored;) Fourteenth Ward, Patrick Redmond, Charles Brown, M. Weaman, John Brown, J. Harding; Fifteenth Ward, Samuel Echorn.

BROOKLYN POLITICS.—The Republicans of the Twentieth Ward have nominated JOHN K. BURKE for Alderman, WM. M. LITTLE for Supervisor, and JOHN BROWN for Constable. The Democratic primaries have been fixed for Monday evening, Oct. 12. The City Convention will be held on Tuesday the 13th inst., the County Convention on Wednesday, the 14th, the Assembly Convention on Thursday the 15th, and the Senatorial Convention on the same day. Ward officers are to be nominated on the same evening the primaries are held.

SURGICAL AND PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS ON THE DISEASES OF THE EAR, WITH THE NEW MODE OF TREATING DEAFNESS, TO WHICH IS ADDED AN APPENDIX, Containing a Treatise on Catarrh and the New System of Treating it.

BY J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D. of No. 816 Broadway.

As the diseases of the former are much better known than those of the latter, the cautious use of this analogy will be of material service in our examination of the morbid conditions of the ear. The conjunctiva, that part of the eye which is the seat of some of its most important diseases, is a mucous membrane situated at the peripheral surface of the eye-ball. In the ear, some of the most common causes of the derangement of its functions depend, in like manner, on the morbid condition of a mucous membrane—that lining the cavity of the tympanum, which, being situated at the peripheral surface of the labyrinth, the essential part of the apparatus of Hearing, bears exactly the same anatomical relation to it as the conjunctiva does to the eye-ball. The nasal duct, a mucous canal, is the seat of some frequent and exceedingly troublesome affections of the eye.

The Eustachian tube, which resembles the nasal duct in every particular, does so also in a remarkable degree in its pathological states. We can give more explanatory facts of the similarity between the construction as well as the diseases of the eye and ear, but this is sufficient to illustrate its truthfulness. But it must be borne in mind, however similar it may be, that, in consequence of the difference of conditions requisite for the exercise of the normal functions of the two organs, the same elementary form of disease will have a widely different effect on Vision and Hearing. For example: inflammation and obstruction of the nasal duct has not such a direct effect on the exercise of the functions of the eye, as the same state of the Eustachian tube has on that of the ear.

In the case of the Eye, we can readily and conveniently remove any accumulation of thickened mucous by the means of a sponge dipped in a simple solution; but the more inaccessible cavity of the tympanum requires to be cleared out by more complicated and judicious means, such as of applying my own Inhalator for this purpose, so as to allow free space for regurgitation of the air, both where the catheter is inserted into the mouth of the Eustachian tube, and where the nozzle of the tube of my Ear Inhalator is inserted into the dilated end of the catheter.

But, as in catarrhal Opthalmia, for instance, it is not enough to clear away the discharge from the Eye, but also necessary to make some local application to the conjunctiva, if not to employ some general remedy, so must we medicate the membrane lining the cavity of the tympanum, at least, if we do not think it necessary to adopt any more general treatment after the accumulated mucus has been removed by my Ear Inhalator; or in the event of no accumulation existing, there may still be a morbid state of the membrane lining the cavity of the tympanum, admitting of being as beneficially acted upon by some local stimulating application as the conjunctiva in chronic conjunctivitis.

It is, indeed, a very simple process to put a drop of liquid into the eye, as well as to clear away a discharge from the same organ; but in the case of the Ear it is totally different, being a complicated proceeding to apply a remedy directly to the membrane lining the cavity of the tympanum, so as to disperse accumulated mucus. Fluid injections are inconvenient in their applications; moreover, they produce a great deal of pain. The vapor of Acetic Ether, being easily injected, and exciting no pain beyond a little stinging sensation, will, in my opinion, be found the best adapted.

According to Dr. KRAMER's theory, ethereal vapor is considered by this distinguished aurist, from his own experience, to benefit nervous deafness; but I believe some change in the membrane lining the tympanum will be found a more likely cause of the symptoms than any affections of the auditory nerves, as well as the more likely condition to be benefited by the contact of the vapors of Acetic Ether, the same principles that guide us in the employment of general treatment in diseases of the Eye guiding us in diseases of the Ear.

The following is KRAMER's calculation of the cures performed by means of Ether, (for which purpose I was happy enough to succeed in inventing my Ethereal Ear Inhalator for the perfect restoration of hearing:)

TABULAR VIEW OF THE FREQUENCY AND DURABILITY OF DISEASES OF THE EAR.

"Out of three hundred cases of diseases of the Ear of all kinds, two hundred, in round numbers, have not only been benefited but perfectly cured by the inhalation of Acetic Ether. Thirty have only improved their Hearing. About fifty have been benefitted and relieved of the noises in the head by the vapors of Acetic Ether, the treatment having continued for months. The remainder were considered as incurable from the first, and they consequently remained rebellious to the treatment."

HALLER proposed to effect the discharge of fluid infused into the cavity of the tympanum by forcing vapors into the Eustachian tubes. This proceeding was to fill the mouth with the vapors, close the lips and nose, and then make a long, forced expiration, by which the vapor is driven through the Eustachian tubes into the tympanum. DELONU remarks that it is surprising that blowing air artificially into the tympanum, in Deafness, was not thought of sooner. ARCHIBALD CLELAND spoke of blowing air into the tympanum a hundred years ago.

When the Hearing is improved by merely forcing air through the Eustachian tubes into the tympanum cavities, it is in general a sign promising advantage from the application of my Ethereal Ear Inhalator, resulting in a complete cure. In recent cases of muculent obstruction of the tympanic cavities with obstruction of the Eustachian tubes, considerable improvement has been experienced. One of my numerous patients, Mr. M., one of the first citizens of New-York, was so successfully treated by us that the Hearing distance on the right side was raised to four fee nine inches, and on the left side to seven feet seven inches. But this depends not only on the disease of the Ear from which the patient suffers, but a great deal also on the constitution; therefore, after examination of the Ear, it is always necessary to hear the statement of the patient. I invariably make my patient fill out a printed form. From this detail of his symptoms I can generally form an accurate diagnosis; for there may be constitutional derangements which attend upon the Ear. I have frequently observed that when it arises from sympathy, it is ushered in by a train of symptoms peculiar to itself. The flatulence, heartburn, and the dyspeptic signs, are of a very marked character, more especially in those individuals who once have had a paroxysm.

The febrile state, too, is one of a high degree of irritation, of which the mind partakes as well as the body. I have found in Otitis that the patient suffers excruciating pain during the night, but there is not that singular sensation, which has been so admirably described by SYDENHAM, of utter impossibility of finding a position that is a relief from pain. That great physician was himself a martyr to Otitis, and if he had during the paroxysm minuted down each varying sensation as it arose, he could not more accurately have described this disease (Otitis) as it presents itself under ordinary circumstances, and in the greater number of cases in which it affects individuals. It not unfrequently occurs that, although during a very long period the sufferer from Otitis has never felt any uneasiness about it, yet from some unexplained cause, or more probably from a cold, suddenly exhibits its power of diminishing the Hearing as well as the comforts of life. First, a buzzing noise in the head, a sense of heat, of tingling and of shooting, is perceptible, and then gradual inconvenience and diminution of the Hearing power, twitching, and even severe pains are felt. Under such circumstances, I find that it is generally believed that there is more difficulty in effecting a cure than where it had been perceived at an earlier stage, and had met with that attention which every disordered state of the Ear most particularly requires; but my own experience tells me, however late the individual seeks relief, that it may be given, if my own plan of treatment for recovering the Hearing is followed.

Each organ of the body, when inflamed, or which show more or less of the general signs of inflammation, manifest certain symptoms which are peculiar to itself. Thus, intolerance of acute sound is a special symptom afforded by the Ear, and bears a similar relation to the functions of this organ as difficulty of breathing does to the lungs, or delirium to the brain. Even such special symptoms, however, are modified according to the particular texture of the part of the Ear which is inflamed.

There are other circumstances beside the differences in the various parts of this most complicated little organ, which modify the inflammatory affections of the Ear, rendering also this subject very extensive in the discussion, and causing the diseases to be occasionally very perplexing in the treatment. They are under the influence of peculiarities of constitution and of constitutional diseases, and are subjected to numerous variations from the influence of sympathies. SCROFULA, SYPHILIS and GOUT are each of them capable of exciting inflammation in different parts of the Meatus Auditorius Internus, or of communicating to an inflammation excited by other causes such differences in character as often to render it difficult to recognize a disease with which we are well acquainted in its simple or idiopathic form.

The general rule established by pathological observations of every part of the body, that inflammation in a great measure limits itself not merely to one organ, but even to one tissue, certainly holds with regard to the Ear. As we have Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Pleuritis, designating inflammation of the various tissues of the lungs—as we meet with inflammation of the Peritoneum of the proper substance of the bowels and of their lining membrane, so we find the different parts of the Ear separately affected, (which parts I have simply in unadorned language described,) obliging us to recognize each part as an individual disease.

By the influence of local sympathy, however, inflammation of one part of the ear never takes place without extending in some degree to the parts with which that first affected is in contact. By the same influence, inflammation originating in one part of the ear is communicated to several of the other parts, the disease of the meatus auditorius externus being communicated to those portions of the organ which are more deeply seated, and conversely that of the internal parts spreading outwards; and while each part obeys its own laws of morbid action, the whole organ in this way may become involved by what had at first a very limited existence, and perhaps a very trivial aspect.

When we reflect, then, on the innumerable combinations which may take place among the inflammatory diseases of the ear, and the many causes by which these diseases may be modified, we shall be convinced, I think, that of all the subjects requiring descriptions and explanations of morbid action and changes, there can be few more difficult than those diseases which have been swept together with so indiscriminating a hand, under the name of Otitis. Unless this be kept in mind by those who begin to study inflammatory diseases of the ear, they will be not a little perplexed by the diversified complexions of morbid phenomena which they will meet at every step of their progress. A knowledge of the inflammatory diseases of the ear has been greatly retarded by the practice of confounding them all under the general name of Otitis, and thus overlooking both the seat of the disease and the peculiar nature of the inflammation.

DEAFNESS, CATARRH AND DISEASES OF THE EAR AND THROAT.

Dr. LIGHTHILL, author of "A Popular Treatise on Deafness," "Letters on Catarrh," &c., &c., can be consulted on Deafness, Catarrh, Discharges from the Ear, Noises in the Head, and all the various acute and chronic diseases of the Ear and Throat, at his office, No. 34 St. Mark's-place, (8th-st., between 2d and 3d avs.,) from 9 A. M. till 3 P. M.

FROM F. L. CAGWIN, PRESIDENT CITY BANK, JOLIET, ILL.

Dr. Lighthill:

DEAR SIR: It affords me the greatest satisfaction to be able to inform you that I am still improving, and have the highest hopes that my ear will be entirely well by the time you at first mentioned it would take to effect a cure. I can say that I am truly thankful to the kind Providence which directed me to you. Since the first few days' use of your prescription, my ear has improved, and almost at once. I was relieved from a very depressed state of feeling and an almost intolerable case, to an elastic and hopeful state of mind. What Dr. John Nott replied to me as his experience, has been mine so far. My catarrhal trouble seems very much better also, and, indeed, altogether my health never was so good. I am weighing some five pounds more than is usual for me, (and more than I ever weighed before,)

I can but hope that it may be the good fortune of many, with like troubles, to fall in the way of the benefit of your skill, and knowing how great the fear of imposition is with those, who in time past, may like myself have suffered by it, and feeling a wish, sincerely at this time, to aid and commend you in establishing a high and deserved position amongst us in your profession, I beg, therefore, that you will not hesitate to refer to me, as it may be of use. I also inclose herewith, Professor Nott's reply to my letter of inquiries, which I deem highly creditable to you, and of great importance to others, as it has been to me. I will visit you again soon. In the meantime, believe me,

Yours, very sincerely,
JOLIET, Ill., July 17, 1863. F. L. CAGWIN.

FROM REV. JOHN NOTT, D. D., PROFESSOR IN UNION COLLEGE, SCHENECTADY, NEW-YORK.

FONDA, N. Y., April 29, 1863.

F. L. Cagwin, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: I received your letter of April 23 to-day. I have had from infancy one very deaf ear, and always discharging more or less offensive matter. This year both ears became diseased, running very much, very offensive, producing the greatest debility of body and depression of spirits, and my hearing impaired in the highest degree. In such a condition, I placed myself under the care of Dr. Lighthill. He has fully restored me. I hear well; the dizziness and the discharge have been removed, and have not returned. The stopping of the running has given me the highest elasticity and vigor of body, and a flow of spirits, while my fears were that stopping the discharge would prove detrimental or dangerous.

I esteem, or rather have learned to esteem, Dr. Lighthill—for he was a stranger to me until I was his patient—as a gentleman and a man of science, in whom the highest confidence may be placed. Yours, very truly,

JOHN NOTT.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 2, 1863.

This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Catarrh for many years, which produced the usual disagreeable effects. I consulted Dr. Lighthill about nine or ten months since, and at once placed myself under his care. I am now entirely free from Catarrh, my throat is perfectly healthy, and my health is very much improved.

DENTISTS.

A CIRCULAR containing many interesting facts respecting the NITROUS OXIDE GAS, with the cost of apparatus—the right apparatus—will be sent to any dentist, on receipt of the postage, three cents. The undersigned originated the use of the gas as an anesthetic agent, and has had twenty years' experience in its manufacture. Most of the apparatus sold in this City for making the gas is worthless, as many dentists have learned to their cost. They have used it and failed, and then came to "headquarters" for instructions. Where the gas is pure, as it should be, and properly administered, not the slightest pain is felt in the extraction of teeth. Address

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. VON EISENBERG has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. VON EISENBERG is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. VON EISENBERG, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr Von Eisenberg, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. Von Eisenberg's mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.

JAMES FURLONG, No. 556 2d-av.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. VON EISENBERG almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. VON EISENBERG, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. VON EISENBERG's unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

NEW SARATOGA SPRINGS.
The water from this spring is superior to any mineral water now in the market, for the reason that it contains more minerals, and is a better cathartic, taking one-third less quantity to produce the same effect. It contains about one hundred cubic inches more of carbonic acid gas in one gallon than any other water bottled at Saratoga. Consequently it is more pungent and pleasant to the taste. It is also a good tonic. Sold by druggists and at the hotels. For analysis, see cards, which may be had at the druggists. Orders may be addressed to Saratoga Spring Company, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., or to their Southern Depot, No. 69 Barclay-st., New-York.

PREPARE FOR ANOTHER TREAT IN THE SUNDAY MERCURY OF TO-MORROW

The great domestic romance by the authoress of "Aurora Floyd," "John Marchmont's Legacy," &c., &c., entitled,

THREE TIMES DEAD,
OR
THE SECRET OF THE HEATH,

will be commenced and continued in to-morrow's SUNDAY MERCURY. In order that the many who have been disappointed in obtaining copies of the SUNDAY MERCURY containing the first and second instalments of this striking story, a full digest of the opening chapters will be published in the issue of to-morrow as an introduction to the remainder. Every scene and incident of the preceding portions, necessary to a clear comprehension of the entire narrative, will be embraced in the abridgement.

In the whole range of modern fiction it would be difficult to find a story in which the interest is sustained throughout with such wonderful skill as in "THREE TIMES DEAD." Like Garrick, the authoress depicts the comic and the tragic phases of human life with equal force, intermingling with a web of mystery and suffering the brightest threads of humor. She is thoroughly original, and whoever reads this extraordinary story will admit that it stands alone among the romances of the day, equal to the best of them in absorbing interest, yet wholly unlike any of them. The school of modern fiction has repeated itself until its plots, its dialogues, its incidents, have grown stale; but here is a work fresh and brilliant in its conception, and worked up with a degree of power which no living novelist could surpass. The bright side and the night side of human nature are presented in vivid contrast, and the characters are all molded with a master hand. The description of the town of "Slopperton" and the river "Sloshy" is not excelled in graphic vigor and quiet satire by anything that Dickens or Thackeray ever wrote.

THE SUNDAY MERCURY

places before its readers, every Sunday morning, a more comprehensive summary of the world's affairs than any other newspaper, daily or weekly, in this country. It is an epitome of everything that comes within the range of journalism. It caters for its readers in the foreign market for the best original romances, paying large prices for the advance sheets, and it secures the best home talents in the same department, by the same liberal policy. It reflects, in its columns, through the medium of the most competent reporters and correspondents, the news of the entire civilized world. No journal in the United States has such a well-organized system of telegraphic communication, or so often forestalls its cotemporaries in the publication of important intelligence. Sharing in all the information common to the Associated Press, it has, likewise, exclusive sources of information, and its private telegraphic dispatches from the seat of Government, and elsewhere, often foreshadow events of which no other paper has the slightest inkling. In Politics, Literature, Art, Amusements, Commerce, Finance, and in all local matters, it gives the fullest and most reliable information, and hence it not only has a larger, but a more diversified circulation than any other business medium paper published in America. The Merchant, the Farmer, the Politician, the Artist, the man of leisure, all take it because they cannot do without it, and consumers and producers, buyers and sellers, find it equally necessary in the prosecution of their occupations and callings. Add to this fact THE SUNDAY MERCURY contains more reading matter than any other weekly published in this country, and that its circulation is three times that of all its (would-be) Sunday competitors put together, and you will have some idea of the present position of the GREAT SUNDAY NEWSPAPER, and of what it will eventually become at its present wonderful rate of progress.

THE GREAT HIT OF THE DAY!

THREE TIMES DEAD;
OR,
THE SECRET OF THE HEATH.
By the Author of "John Marchmont's Legacy," "Eleanor's Victory," &c., &c, &c.
In the
SUNDAY MERCURY OF TO-MORROW.

The opening chapters of this intensely interesting romance, commenced in the SUNDAY MERCURY of the 20th ult., have excited the curiosity of the public, and taken hold of their imaginations to an extent that has no parallel in the history of serial stories on this side of the Atlantic. Unable to supply the demand for the editions of the 20th and 27th ult., containing the first two installments of the work, the publishers have had them carefully condensed for the issue of to-morrow, in which will be found the pith of the story, so far as it has proceeded, in the form of a prefix to the continuation. No pains have been spared to make the abstract full and clear, so that the readers commencing the exciting and powerful narrative to-morrow, will have a perfect understanding of every incident of the opening chapters necessary to the completeness of the tale.

The caustic humor of Dickens is combined with the tragic force of Bulwer in this wonderful work of fiction. The style, as well as the plot, is fascinating in the extreme. In the words of a distinguished English reviewer, "THREE TIMES DEAD" is a story which, once begun, must be continued to the end. It haunts the imagination, it lives in the memory, its thrilling scenes and finely drawn characters cannot be dismissed from the mind; and if its authoress had never written anything else, it would stamp her as one of the most original and vivid passional romancists of the present day.

THE SUNDAY MERCURY,

in presenting to the public this great romance of domestic life, gives another earnest of its determination to be first in the field with the best efforts of the foreign mind in this department of literature. The object of its publishers has been to make the SUNDAY MERCURY the and thus claims to have succeeded, with a local circulation greater by thousands than that of any other sheet printed in New-York, and which now triples the combined issues of all the other Sunday presses published. It comprises a fund of information never before offered in any weekly publication, either in the Old World or the New. Its original Romances and Novelties, its telegraphic dispatches from private and exclusive sources, up to 4 o'clock Sunday morning, its full and thorough reports of public proceedings, its army and navy news, derived from well posted correspondents at every point of interest, its elaborate and carefully digested statistical articles on subjects of vital importance, its theatrical and show news, covering the whole field of public amusements at home and abroad, its unveilings of the secret workings of political parties and cabals, its Table Talk teeming with original American humor, its poetical gems, its commercial, shipping and financial intelligence, its vigorous out-spoken editorials, its police and Fire Department news, its personal items, its law department, its religious intelligence, its foreign correspondence, &c., &c., render it, in the words of St. Paul,

COMPLETEST NEWSPAPER IN THE WORLD,

ALL THINGS TO ALL MEN, and entitle it to the immense success which has long since eclipsed all rivalry.

THE INTENSE INTEREST excited by the opening chapters of the new Romance entitled

"THREE TIMES DEAD;
OR,
THE SECRET OF THE HEATH,"

having swept off the Editions of the SUNDAY MERCURY containing them,

A COMPLETE SYNOPSIS

of the first installments of the work will be published in the

SUNDAY MERCURY OF TO-MORROW,
OCTOBER 4,

together with several chapters in continuation. As this great tragi-comic tale by the author of "John Marchmont's Legacy," "Eleanor's Victory," &c., progresses, it takes a stronger hold of the imagination of the reader. Its authoress is now the "bright particular star" in the firmament of fiction, and most assuredly, "THREE TIMES DEAD" is one of the most original and powerful of her works. In pathos it equals "Oliver Twist," and its humor is no less convulsing. Yet it is utterly unlike any other fiction of the day—thoroughly and delightfully original. The abridgment of the early chapters is a very full one, and omits nothing necessary to the completeness of the story. No reader can have guessed, from the commencement of the story, what its dénouement will be. Herein consists the most extraordinary faculty of the writer. She heaps mystery upon mystery, and it is not until she disperses the clouds, that you have any idea of what they covered. "Whoever takes up this story," says a London magazine, "is sure to read it through—to do so is a mental necessity." No higher compliment than this could be paid to the authoress, and she deserves it.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

as far as it can be collected and condensed by a matchless system of correspondence and local reporting, will be found in to-morrow's

SUNDAY MERCURY.

All the interest of this great City are catered for in its columns. The object of the publishers has been to make it a public necessity, by rendering it an accurate compendium of every kind of information which the public wants, and by providing an unrivaled literary banquet for the man of leisure. Hence its circulation is universal. Men of all political opinions, of every trade, calling and profession read it, because it embodies facts for all—and facts obtained from exclusive sources, not accessible to the general Press. Its country circulation is immense, for the country wants to know what the City is doing, and the SUNDAY MERCURY reflects social, professional and business life in New-York, as in a mirror. The ladies unanimously admit it, for where else can they find so much original light reading of the most delightful kind? In fact, there is nothing in politics, art, amusements, sport, gossip, passing events, or in any department which should have a place in a universal newspaper, omitted in its programme. America has never before had so complete and comprehensive a journal, nor is there any publication abroad of the same class that will compare with it. It is, in fact,

A REFLEX OF THE AGE,

with a place for everything, and everything in its place It is full of the materials of history as well as the materials of recreation; and if its publication were intermitted for a week, that week, as regards scores of facts which it imports every man and woman to know, would be little better than a blank in our local annals.

These are the reasons of its success. It has to-day, as its publishers are prepared to prove, whenever an opportunity is afforded them, a circulation equal to that of all its Sunday cotemporaries, multiplied by three, and a larger City circulation than any other published in New-York on any day of the week.

NOTICE.—THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTION was adopted by the Board of Directors the 11th of March, 1863:

Resolved—That, as a guarantee of the punctual payment of the interests upon the funded debt of this Company, the first net earnings in each half of the fiscal year, to the extent necessary for the purpose, shall be set off and immediately deposited as follows, viz.: so much as may be necessary to pay the coupons upon the sterling bonds in the London Joint Stock Bank, and such sum as may be necessary to pay the coupons on the dollar bonds in New-York, which deposits shall be held subject to this purpose only, and that public notice of the deposit shall be duly made by publication in the Cities of London and New-York in such manner as the President may direct."

The net earnings for the month of July being more than sufficient for the purpose, funds have been deposited with the London Joint Stock Bank in London and with Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co., in New-York, for payment of the coupons due 1st February next.

Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. will pay the coupons on presentation, deducting interest at six per cent. per annum.

AUCTION SALES.

EDWARD SCHENCK, Auctioneer.

VALUABLE COLLECTION OF PAINTINGS,
BY EMINENT DUSSELDORF ARTISTS.

By D. W. IVES & CO., on THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 8, at 7½ o'clock, at the Derby Galleries, No. 625 Broadway, a collection of valuable and important works of art by the most eminent artists of Dusseldorf, together with some specimens by distinguished French and Belgian painters. In calling attention of connoisseurs, amateurs and the art-loving public to this sale, we would simply state that the collection has been made in every case from the artists themselves by a gentleman of cultivated taste, whose opportunities, from a lengthened residence at Dusseldorf, for the acquisition of paintings of the highest class, are unsurpassed. Every specimen in the sale may be fairly said to be a chef d'œuvre of the particular artist—the range of subjects including history, landscape, figure, genre, fruit, marine, still life, &c., the principal feature being the presence of the world-renowned painting,

"RETURN OF THE REAPERS," BY BECKER,

which formed one of the leading attractions in the late Mr. Boker's collection of Dusseldorf pictures. In addition, is a SUPERB FRUIT PIECE, BY PREYER, and examples by HENRY H. LEEDS & Co., Auctioneers.

HENRY H. LEEDS & CO. WILL SELL at auction, on SATURDAY, Oct. 3, at 12 o'clock, at our galleries, No. 23 Nassau-st., a valuable collection of rare and curious Shell Works, lately received from Nassau and Key West, and removed from the Fair of the American Institute, at the Academy of Music, where it has been on exhibition for the past three weeks: the premium of a silver medal having been awarded to the maker and owner of the superb collection for beauty of design and elaborate workmanship. It comprises among the numerous pieces, viz.: a monumental cenotaph to the memory of the late Col. E. D. Baker, of California, killed at the battle of Ball's Bluff, nearly six feet high; a model of a Gothic church, 5 feet 6 inches high, and very elaborate; several most exquisite frames, beautiful in design, of flowers, fruit, &c., suitable for photographs or mirrors for boudoirs; also, workboxes, several caskets, card-baskets, bridal-wreaths, spray, &c., &c. This work is most substantial, not being affected by heat, cold, or damp, the principal component of the cement being white lead. It is as a collection very curious and recherche, and is well worthy the attention of connoisseurs and the public. It will be on exhibition as above on and from Wednesday, Sept. 30, until day of sale.

Resolved, (if the Assembly concur,) That the following amendment be proposed to the Constitution of this State:

There shall be added to the sixth article of the Constitution of this State, as the twenty-sixth section thereof, the following,

Whenever, and as soon as this amendment to the Constitution shall take effect, the Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint five persons Commissioners of Appeals, who shall have power to hear and determine all appeals then pending in the Court of Appeals, which may be transferred to them by said Court, and shall have all the general powers of a Court of Record for that purpose. The Clerk of the Court of Appeals shall act as Clerk of said Commissioners, and the judgment rendered by the said Commissioners shall be entered by the said Clerk in the records of the Court of Appeals, and shall have the same force and effect as if rendered by the said Court. One of said Commissioners shall be named as Chief Commissioner, and the said Commission shall continue, and the said Commissioners hold their office, until all the causes transferred to them shall have been heard and determined, but not longer than four years from the date of the original Commission. The said Commissioners shall receive the same compensation as the judges of the Court of Appeals. They may appoint the time and places of their sittings, and the Legislature shall provide for the expense thereof.

But said sitting shall not be appointed for the same time as those fixed for the Court of Appeals; and the Reporter of the Court of Appeals shall be the Reporter of the said Commissioners.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN SENATE, March 31, 1863.

The foregoing resolution was duly passed. By order of the Senate.
JAS. TERWILLIGER, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN ASSEMBLY, April 6, 1863.

The foregoing resolution was duly passed. By order of the Assembly.
J. B. CUSHMAN, Clerk.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION, PROVIDING THAT PERSONS IN THE MILITARY SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES, IN THE ARMY OR NAVY THEREOF, MAY VOTE AT THE PLACE WHERE THEY MAY BE IN SUCH SERVICE.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur,) That the following amendment be proposed to the Constitution of this State:

Section one of article two is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following words:

Provided, That in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from the State; and the Legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which, and the time and places at which, such absent electors may vote, and the canvass and returns of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside or otherwise.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur,) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of Senators, and that the same be published for three months prior to such election, pursuant to section one of article thirteen of the Constitution.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN ASSEMBLY, April 22, 1863.

The foregoing resolutions were duly passed. By order of the Assembly.
J. B. CUSHMAN, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN SENATE, April 24, 1863.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the Hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

MADAME RESTELL, FEMALE PHYSICIAN and Professor of Midwifery, who has successfully treated all diseases of Females for thirty years, can be consulted, as usual, at No. 162 Chambers-st., or by letter.

Her infallible medicines for either married or single ladies can be sent by mail. Price $5.

N. B.—Ladies who desire to avail themselves of Madame RESTELL'S valuable, certain and safe mode of removing obstructions, suppressions, &c., &c., from whatever cause, without the use of medicines or instruments, can do so at one interview. Ladies from a distance can return the same day.

MADAME RESTELL,
Female Physician and Accoucheur,
No. 162 Chambers-st., New-York City.

Ladies who desire board, and the best medical attendance during confinement, can be accommodated.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE—Containing nearly 300 pages, and 150 fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the sexual organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage-stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or married, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Prepared of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., New-York.

MRS. MAXWELL, M. D., NO. 6 GREENE-STREET, New-York, takes pleasure in offering her services to the ladies who are suffering from Irregularities, Suppression, &c., from whatever cause produced. In order to extend her sphere of usefulness, she has taken a large house, regardless of expense, and fitted it up as a Lying-in Hospital. There the most perfect secrecy is observed, and all the comforts of home in a sick-room may be found. Also, Female Monthly Pills. Price, $1. And where the children can always be adopted.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob him of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. No other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to guarantee speedy and permanent cures. N. B.—Those who may have been misled by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., can call on Dr. J., with the certainty of receiving honorable treatment.

VERONICA QUINQUEFOLIA ERADICATES Scrofula of all kinds, Consumption, Mercury, Gout, Dropsy, Rheumatism, the severest Syphilis, all eruptions; sovereign purifier of the blood—THE GENUINE ARTICLE. HEGEMAN & CO., Broadway, Sole Agents.

OLD DR. HUBBARD'S FEMALE PILLS are far superior to all others now in use. Price three dollars and five dollars per box. C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, No. 38 6th-av., corner of 4th-st. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale in Brooklyn at Nos. 90 and 204 Fulton-av.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has tried the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 200 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR HAY, STRAW AND GRAIN.

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, FORAGE DEPARTMENT, Seventh-st. Wharf,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1863.

Written proposals are invited for furnishing HAY, STRAW, OATS and CORN for the use of this depot, to be delivered at the railroad depot, or at any of the Government wharves in this city.

The proposals to be addressed to the undersigned, and they should state the quantity and grade of each article offered, also the price and the date of delivery.

Proposals will be received for five thousand (5,000) bushels of Corn or Oats, and fifty (50) tons of Hay or Straw, and upward, unless it should be for the interest of the Government to contract for a less amount.

All grain to be put up in good sacks, of about two (2) bushels each, which are to be furnished at the cost of the contractor.

The Hay and Straw to be securely baled.

All Grain and Hay offered to be subject to a rigid inspection by the Government Inspector.

Contracts will be awarded from time to time to the lowest responsible bidders, as the interest of the service may require. Good security will be required for the faithful fulfillment of any contract made under this advertisement.

Payment to be made at the completion of the contract.
S. L. BROWN, Captain and A. Q. M. U. S. A.

MUSICAL.

PIANOS. MUSIC
READ THIS. NEARLY IMPOSSIBLE, BUT TRUE.

Our world-renowned PIANOS—the result of all modern improvements—are offered now at extremely low rates. All Pianos warranted for five years, and taken back if not suitable. Our prices are from $250 upward. Dealers and Teachers will find it to their own profit by recommending our Pianos.

MUSIC.—In spite of the high premium on gold and 30 per cent. duties, we concluded to sell all foreign and domestic Music of every description at only 2c. to 3c. per page, (nearly ⅓ of the former prices.)

All orders from the country promptly filled, and mailed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.
The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 82 and 84 Walker-st., New-York.

UNITED PIANO-FORTE MAKERS,

PIANO-FORTES AT THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIR.—Being confident that my Piano, which received the silver medal, is superior in power and brilliancy of tone to Mr. Bradbury's, which received the gold medal, I offer, as a friendly test, a challenge to match my piano against the gold medal piano, Messrs. Steinway, Chickering, Hazleton, Dunham and Weber to be the judges. I will pay all the expenses, and if it is decided that my piano was not entitled to the gold medal, I will pay $250 to the orphans of slain soldiers, who have died for their country.
Respectfully, your obedient servant,
J. B. PECK.

Protestant Episcopal Convention.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment yesterday morning, their proceedings opening with the usual services.

The report of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund was received. Some of the congregations had failed to pay their dues, and especial mention was made of the facts. The report elicited remarks from several of the Delegates. Rev C. Johnson, of Brooklyn, spoke in earnest terms of the many clergymen who were so poorly paid, as scarce to be able to support themselves and families; contrasted this fact with the care and liberality with which the Roman Catholic Clergy were surrounded, and attributed it to the want of heart in the work. Twenty-five hundred of the report were ordered printed.

Rev. Dr. A. C. Coxe and Mr. E. T. Delancey were appointed Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, to fill vacancies.

A mileage resolution was adopted, allowing the clergy attending the Convention, who lived seventy miles from the City, eight cents per mile.

Hon. Murray Hoffman, from Committee on Canons, to whom the matter of controversies between members and parishes was referred, reported the following canon relative thereto:

Section 1. In cases of controversy between a minister who now holds or may hereafter hold the rectorship of a church or parish, which controversy is of such a nature as cannot be settled by themselves, the rector or a majority of the vestrymen of such church or parish, together with one of the church wardens, may make application to the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese for the determination of the case.

Sec. 2. The ecclesiastical authority may thereupon, in its discretion, summon eight Presbyters of the diocese, to meet at some designated time and place. Such Presbyters shall form a Board to examine and report in writing upon the case.

Sec. 3. If it shall appear to such Board that the controversy is such as to preclude the hope of its favorable termination, and that a dissolution of the connexion which exists between the minister and the church is necessary to restore the peace and to promote the prosperity of the same, the said Board shall state the conditions and terms on the part of the vestry and congregation of the church on which the minister shall relinquish his title to the rectorship.

Sec. 4. The ecclesiastical authority shall thereupon make such judgment and determination in the case as it shall deem best.

Sec. 5. If such Rector shall refuse to comply with the judgment and determination of the ecclesiastical authority, the ecclesiastical authority, being a Bishop, may proceed to suspend him from the exercise of any ministerial duties within the diocese, until compliance therewith; and if the neglect or refusal is on the part of the vestry or congregation of the church, it may be prohibited by the ecclesiastical authority from a representative in the Convention of the Diocese until it submits to the aforesaid judgment and determination.

Sec. 6. This canon shall also apply to cases of assistant ministers and the churches in which they serve.

Rev. Dr. Tyng strenuously opposed the canon, contending that it invested the Bishop with too arbitrary a power, inasmuch as he was authorized to decide on questions without reference to the testimony taken on the trial. He was unwilling to be subject to such a condition and opposed to such unlimited power. Dr. Vinton also opposed the canon. Bishop Potter made some remarks, in which he expressed himself as not favorable to the canon, and as having written to the Committee, urging them to great caution on the matters which they had in hand. Considerable discussion ensued, in which Mr. Hoffman took part, and the canon was finally referred back to the Committee.

A resolution was reported by the Committee appointed to consider the matter of the drafted clergymen, for the raising by subscription a sufficient amount to secure their exemption. Some $2,000 would be immediately required. The resolution was adopted.

The Committee on the Division of the Diocese reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, First, That when a division of the present Diocese of New-York takes place it shall be into three Dioceses.

Resolved, Second, That the First Division shall consist of the three Counties of Kings, Queens and Suffolk.

Resolved, Third, That the Second Division, as the Convention may hereafter determine, shall consist of Rensselaer, Albany, Schoharie, Otsego, Schenectady, Montgomery, Fulton, Saratoga, Washington, Warren, Hamilton, Herkimer, Essex, Clinton, Franklin, St. Lawrence; or of the Counties of Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Columbia, Rensselaer and Washington.

Resolved, Fourth, That whenever in either of those Districts other than that in which lies the City of New-York, a majority of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention of the Diocese, and also a majority of the Parishes represented by their Wardens and Vestrymen shall present to the Convention through the Bishop of the Diocese their written request that said District be set apart and become a separate Diocese, then if such request shall receive the approval of the Convention together with that of the Bishop, the said District shall thereupon be set apart as a separate Diocese, and the Convention shall take measures to secure the ratification of such division by the General Convention.

Resolved, Fifth, That the Episcopal fund of the present Diocese of New-York shall be and remain for the use and benefit of the Diocese in which the City of New-York shall be situated.

Judge Hoffman offered in connection with the report the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention, the Episcopal services which can be rendered by a single Bishop, however unsparing and devoted he may be, are inadequate to meet the wants of the Diocese.

Resolved, That a division of the Diocese is the most efficient and most expedient method of supplying those wants; most consonant with Ecclesiastical polity; will promote the interests of the Church, and ought to be carried into effect as speedily as practicable.

Resolved, That this Convention approve of and adopt the system and plan of division reported by the Committee of Nine, whose report has been laid before it.

Rev. Dr. McVickar, in connection with the same subject, submitted the following:

Resolved, That previous to any decided action on the division of the Diocese, that it is expedient to determine the principles involved in such division, and the relation which the parts divided may advantageously be made to hold permanently to each other, with the view to the adoption by the Church at large of a Provincial system, standing intermediate in union and legislative action between Diocesan Conventions and the General Council of the Church, asking a system obviously demanded by the rapid extension of our Church and the varied and local interests thereby necessarily awakened.

Mr. Hoffman sustained the report and resolutions, arguing that the division would increase the power, usefulness and purity of the church.

Rev. Dr. Thrall deprecated any action at this time as impolitic, and especially opposed the division so far as it related to Westchester County.

Rev. Dr. Taylor opposed the division as mischievous and injurious. He thought the Bishop the proper party to decide upon the necessity of such a measure, and esteemed him much more competent to do so than Mr. Hoffman. As yet the Bishop had not approved of it, and he trusted he would not.

The Convention, after some further discussion of the question, adjourned till 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

At 7 P. M., the discussion on the report of the Committee and the resolutions of Judge Hoffman was resumed, Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Grace Church, Dr. Francis Vinton, Senator Pruyn, of Albany, Judge Betts, Judge Hoffman and others participating.

Some question having arisen during the debate in reference to the comparative activity of the Eastern and Western Dioceses, the President requested the Secretary to read the list of new churches added to the former within ten years, as follows:

Anthon Memorial.
Calvary Church Chapel.
St. George the Martyr.
Church of the Redemption.
Church of the Mediator.
St. George's Mission Chapel.
St. Ann's.
St. John the Evangelist.
Trinity Chapel.
St. John the Baptist.
Church of the Reconciliation.

The vote was finally called for on the two first resolutions of Judge Hoffman, and resulted thus: Clerical votes—58 Ayes for adoption; 69 Noes. Lay votes (by churches)—Ayes, 37; Noes, 48; Divided, 4, and the resolutions were lost. The report of the Committee of Nine and the resolutions of Dr. McVickar were then laid on the table.

A question arose in reference to the vote of St. Philip's, of the Highlands, which was partly represented by Ex-Gov. Hamilton Fish, who was also a delegate for St. Mark's in this City, Rev. Dr. Vinton challenging his double vote as irregular and unconstitutional. After some spicy repartee, the question fell, St. Philip's not being entered on the list of votes.

After the consideration of some further minor matters, the Convention, between 11 and 12 o'clock, adjourned to reassemble at 9 this morning. They will probably adjourn sine die to-day.

An Incident of Travel.—A passenger by the Hudson River Railroad had his hat blown off, and it fell in the river. "Is it not singular," said he to a gentleman seated beside him, "that my hat took that direction?" "Not at all," replied the other; "it is natural that a beaver should take to the water." "Beaver be hanged!" exclaimed the irate loser; "that was one of Knox's best silks." "Well, then, I lose my joke—so we're on a par. You can go back to town, and Knox, No. 212 Broadway, will remedy your loss at a trifling expense."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

HILLARD'S READERS.

NEW SERIES—JUST PUBLISHED.

HILLARD'S SIXTH READER, } With an original treatise
HILLARD'S FIFTH READER, } on elocution by Prof. Mark Bailey, of Yale College.
HILLARD'S INTERMEDIATE READER, ILLUSTRATED.
HILLARD'S FOURTH READER, ILLUSTRATED.
HILLARD'S THIRD (PRIMARY) READER, ILLUSTRATED.
HILLARD'S SECOND (PRIMARY) READER ILLUSTRATED.
HILLARD'S FIRST (PRIMARY) READER, ILLUSTRATED.

In the Fourth, Intermediate, Fifth, and Sixth Readers a few of the most approved selections in the compiler's former series are reproduced, but the selections for the most part are derived from other sources, and the examination of English literature has been very extensive to find a variety of pieces of intrinsic worth and permanent merit.

Great care has been taken to select entertaining, choice and spirited pieces, and that the different numbers of the New Series should be carefully graduated to the capacity of the classes for which they are designed.

School Officers and Teachers are invited to address the publishers.

Copies of the books will be furnished to teachers and school officers for examination, or they will be sent by mail on receipt of the postage, which is for the Sixth, 24 cents; Fifth, 20 cents; Fourth, 16 cents; Third Primary, 12 cents; Second Primary, 8 cents; and First Primary, 8 cents.

The publication of the Old Series will be continued as heretofore.

CARLETON, PUBLISHER, NEW-YORK,
Has ready this morning, from advance sheets, Ruffini's splendid new Novel, entitled:

VINCENZO;
Or, SUNKEN ROCKS.

By the author of "Doctor Antonio." One large paper-covered 8vo; price 75 cents.

This charming new novel will be welcomed by all lovers of pure English fiction. A skillfully-managed story—the scenes laid in the most romantic portions of Italy—and the pen of a popular author, combine in producing a fascination that but few novel readers can resist.

ALSO, JUST READY.

THE NORTH-AMERICAN REVIEWS.
NO. CCI.—FOR OCTOBER, 1863.

CONTENTS.

Articles 1—Life Insurance; 2, Eugene Scribe; 3, The Trial of the Constitution; 4, Dana's Geology; 5, Quietism in the Nineteenth Century; 6, Tyndall's Lectures on Heat; 7, The Revolution of Language; 8, The Antiquity of Man; 9, Hygiene, with reference to the Military Service; 10, The Testimony of Christianity concerning itself; 11, Society in the Levant; 12, Critical Notices; 13, New Publications.

The NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW is published quarterly, in numbers of about three hundred octavo pages, each containing matter equal to an ordinary octavo volume.

Terms—Five dollars a year, or one dollar and twenty-five cents a number.

"This giant among the reviews is filled with the rich products and masterly efforts of some of the best intellects of our country."—Christian Observer.

"It is not narrow, not one-sided, keeps no hobbies to ride; it is open eyed, liberal in the best sense, thoroughly wise and profoundly earnest. It takes cognizance of all subjects of interest. It is religious without being sectarian and bigoted; it is political without being partisan; it is scientific without being technical and dry; it is historical without losing the aspiration of hope."—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

"This work is full of choice gems of the literary world. It has not its equal in America, nor its superior in the world. We cannot do better than to invite each and all of our literary friends to furnish themselves with a work at once so valuable and so cheap."—The Independent.

"The most valuable and most celebrated of our quarterlies."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"It may be considered the leading literary organ of this country."—Philadelphia Saturday Courier.

WHAT TO EAT AND HOW TO COOK IT.

Containing 1,000 receipts.

By P. Blot, late editor of the Almanak Gastronomique, of Paris. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

"It is generally admitted that American markets are better provided with all kinds of fish, flesh, fowl, vegetables and fruit than any country in the world, yet no country has so little knowledge how to make the best use of these raw materials. Millions of dollars are wasted annually from this lack of knowledge. In this Cook-Book may be found such instructions as will enable a housekeeper to avail themselves of the prodigal supply of edibles, so that they may live economically and well."

DR. STERLING'S AMBROSIA FOR THE HAIR.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY AND GENTLEMAN.
AMBROSIA is a stimulating oily extract of roots, barks and herbs. It will cure all diseases of the scalp and itching of the head, entirely eradicates dandruff, prevents the hair from falling out or turning prematurely gray, causes it to grow thick and long. Beware of imitations. None genuine but Dr. Sterling's.

Certificate.
This is to certify that about 18 months ago, I commenced using STERLING'S AMBROSIA. My hair was short, thin, and rapidly falling off. I had tried many Hair Tonics, Invigorators, &c., without receiving any benefit. Soon after using the Ambrosia, my hair ceased falling out, and commenced growing so rapidly as to astonish me. Now my hair is thick, soft and glossy, and is five feet and four inches in length—when let down reaching to the floor. This wonderful result I attribute solely to the use of STERLING'S AMBROSIA, as since I have commenced using it I have applied nothing else to my hair.

IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
In the year 1845 Mr. Mathews first prepared the VENETIAN HAIR DYE. Since that time it has been used by thousands, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.
The VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is only FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.
THE VENETIAN DYE is warranted not to injure the hair or the scalp in the slightest degree.
The VENETIAN DYE works with rapidity and certainty, the hair requiring no preparation whatever.
The VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crock or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by all druggists.
A. I. MATHEWS, General Agent,
No. 12 Gold-st., New-York.

LADIES! ATTENTION!!
Blotches, Freckles and Pimples are immediately eradicated by a few applications of Dr. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT. Thousands now use it, and many state it is worth $5 per bottle. It also makes the hands soft and white. Only 25 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Office of the Diaphragm Filter, }
At McKenzie's Plumbing Establishment, }
No. 305 4th-st., corner of Greene. }
THE DIAPHRAGM FILTER, AS AN INVENTION, is regarded by the leading plumbers of this City, and generally by professional and scientific gentlemen, as the most simple, durable and efficient apparatus for the purification of water under pressure. It has been awarded two gold and three silver medals by the American and Maryland Institutes, and by the Massachusetts Mechanics' Charitable Association, and approved of by our most eminent chemist, (with additional improvements.)

The Diaphragm Filter, manufactured by ALEXANDER McKENZIE, No. 305 4th-st., is the kind of porous filter to which I alluded in my recent report to the Croton Board. I consider the artificial sandstone which constitutes the filtering medium to be an excellent article for the purpose. The instrument is quite durable, and requires to be reversed occasionally to insure its action.
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.
New-York, April 25, 1862.

GOURAUD'S LIQUID HAIR DYE IS, WITHout exception or reservation, the very best ever invented; equally celebrated is GOURAUD'S MEDICATED SOAP, for curing pimples, freckles, sallowness, chaps, chafes, roughness, &c. POUDRE SUBTILE uproots hair from any part of the body. Liquid Rouge, Lily White and Hair Gloss—unfailing success during a period of a quarter of a century has fully established the excellency of GOURAUD'S preparations. They can be found at Dr. FELIX GOURAUD'S new and splendid depot, No. 453 Broadway, near Grand—removed from No. 67 Walker-st.

IVORY SLEEVE BUTTONS OR STUDS—Red, White and Black, engraved, with initials, 75c. per pair, will be sent free on receipt of the price by mail. For sale by WM. M. WELLING, manufacturer of Ivory goods, No. 207 Centre-st., New-York, sign of the Golden Elephant. P. S.—A liberal discount to the trade.

IODINE WATER:

A SOLUTION OF PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

IT ACTS UPON THE HEART,

LIVER, KIDNEYS,

DIGESTIVE ORGANS, AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM

AND HAS GREAT CONTROL OVER

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

It dissolves metallic mercury and all the mercurial compounds which can possibly occur in the living body.
AS A TONIC,
its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility, an increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine Water. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.
The unparalleled success in private practice and the indorsement of HIGH MEDICAL AUTHORITY enables us to recommend
IODINE WATER
as a specific cure for the following diseases, viz.: Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Bronchitis, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Female Weaknesses, Dyspepsia, Syphilis, and Mercurial Disease.
Full directions accompanying each bottle.
Price $1 per bottle; $5 per half dozen. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of price.
All consultations free. DR. H. ANDERS & CO.,

CERTIFICATE OF ANALYSIS.
I have analyzed the "IODINE WATER" prepared by Dr. Anders, and find it to be a solution of pure Iodine in water. It has long been a desideratum to prepare Iodine so that it can be administered in its uncombined state; this preparation by Dr. Anders enables us to effect that object. Each fluid ounce of the water contains about half a grain of Iodine. I consider it a valuable preparation, and one which will prove serviceable in all those cases where the use of Iodine is indicated.
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.

Certificate from Prof. James C. Booth, United States Mint, Philadelphia.
Dr. Henry Anders:
The sample of IODINE WATER tested by me I find to be Iodine dissolved in pure water.
Respectfully yours,
JAMES C. BOOTH.

TESTIMONIALS.
Remarks from the American Medical Monthly, edited by Edward H. Parker, A. M., M. D., late Professor of Anatomy in the New-York Medical College:
Iodine Water.—Samples of a preparation with this name have been sent to us by Dr. Anders, of this city, by whom it is prepared. Chemists generally state that Iodine can be dissolved in water, but that the solution is a very weak one, containing in fact only 1.7000 part of Iodine by weight. Dr. Anders states that this is only a simple solution in Croton water, and may be made as strong as ¾ of a grain to the ounce. The preparation is a decidedly brown fluid, with a strong smell and taste of Iodine. When allowed to stand in an open vessel the color and taste both disappear, the remainder being simply limpid water. We have seen a copy of the report of an analysis, made by Dr. Chilton, in which he states that he finds it "to be a solution of pure Iodine in water." It is a question of interest, by no means unworthy of investigation, what may be the therapeutical value of this preparation. If we can in this way introduce pure Iodine into the system, without combination with any other substance, important results may follow. Practitioners should remember this solution when prescribing Iodine.

Gentlemen: I have examined your Liquid Iodine or Pure Iodine Water, and find it a pure solution of Iodine, containing a sufficient quantity for all practical purposes, as a remedial agent. I have used it in obstinate cases of scrofula, and can attest its superior value in the treatment of this class of disease. I am fully convinced your solution of Iodine, in pure water, is far preferable to any other form in which it has hitherto been used. Respectfully, yours, &c., E. WHITNEY, M. D.

The August number of the Bible Examiner, edited by Rev. George Storrs, contains the following editorial notice:
"Iodine Water.—In this number of our magazine we introduce to the attention of our readers this medical preparation. We have done so, not for pay, nor because our pages are used as a medium of advertisements—for we have uniformly declined them—but gratitude to God, and a sense of obligation to Dr. Anders & Co., have made us insert the following:
My only son, George F. Storrs, now 37 years old, has been afflicted, for some dozen years, more or less, with painful swellings and inflammations in various parts of his body; oftentimes, seemingly, he was near to death; then a respite for a season, but only for a return of the disease with more violence. For the past three years he has had an open sore on his breast; and latterly one near his collar bone, with ulceration in his throat, that was rapidly increasing, so that dissolution appeared inevitable. In this condition he applied to Dr. Anders & Co. By the use of the Iodine Water the ulceration in his throat disappeared in a short time. Continuing its use, in less than two months he was apparently healed, and his general health much improved. This son, whom I had feared would fall asleep in death before this Summer should close, is now, apparently, in a fair way to recover as perfect health as is common to our mortal state. In gratitude to God, who has thus answered prayer, and in justice to Dr. Anders & Co., I have made this statement, satisfied that there is virtue in the Iodine Water treatment which the readers of this magazine will thank its editor for bringing to their notice.

Dr. H. Anders & Co.:
Gents: The package of Iodine Water came all right. My disease is that of the mitral valve of the heart. Before using the Iodine Water a grating sound being very distinct, even so distinct that it could be heard without difficulty with my overcoat buttoned. Now that rubbing sound is not to be heard.
Yours truly, GEORGE L. LESTER.

Dr. H. Anders & Co.:
Gents: It affords me the highest pleasure to inform you that your Iodine Water has entirely cured my son Felix of Chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism. His limbs and his extremities were drawn up, and his heart was so affected as to jar his whole body by its excessive palpitations.
